

Quarterly Activity Report - Q3 FY25

Thursday, 24 April 2025

Wrkr Ltd (ASX: WRK, Wrkr or Company) is pleased to announce its Quarterly Activity Report and Appendix 4C (Quarterly Cash Flow report) for the quarter ending 31 March 2025.

Q3 FY25 Financial Highlights

- Q3 FY25 net operating cash flows improved by 21% on pcg

($564k Q3 FY25; $465k Q3 FY24)

The Q3 operating cash flow reflects the following material cash movements:

- $328k was received for the FY24 R&D return;
 - Significant investment in additional resources in 2 x senior engineers, 1 x project delivery manager and a quality assurance analyst;
 - The operating cash flow position was also affected by the late payment of an invoice for $531k relating to implementation milestones reached in Q2. This was paid early in Q4.
- Payments for operating expenses decreased from $2.3m in Q2 to $2.1m in Q3. Although additional cost was added for new resources, the reduction was due to the increase in capitalised expenditure of $337k in the current quarter reflecting the increase of capital investment in the platform around the API strategy, industry fund solution and PayDay Super readiness.
 - Wrkr continues to focus on investing for growth and carefully managing costs and is committed to adequately funding the areas of the business that are key to delivering its strategy over the next 12-18 months.

*Based on unaudited figures. Excludes interest, depreciation & amortisation, capitalised costs, cost of employee share schemes, costs relating to changes in share capital, impairment of patents, convertible notes costs, and the fair value movement of the convertible notes embedded derivative.

- With a cash balance of $6.72 million as of 31 March 2025, Wrkr is well-positioned to scale up as required as it executes on its sales pipeline.

Business Update

From January to March 2025, Wrkr has significantly increased our internal talent to prepare our workforce to deliver on multiple programs concurrently while maintaining ongoing development and security standards. With the Payday Super draft legislation now out for final feedback, the pending election, and greater certainty on the direction of industry change, Wrkr has seen a significant increase in focus from partners, customers, and prospects alike.

There is increasing interest in the capabilities required to support small businesses in Australia with the pending closure of the ATO Small Business Clearing House in 2026. With over 200,000 companies and nearly 1 million employees seeking a commercial alternative, Wrkr is well-positioned to increase its organic users on the core Wrkr platform from late 2025 to June 2026.

Most large Funds have well-developed plans for Payday Super; however, the runway for deploying new solutions is becoming increasingly short. To this end, the Wrkr team and our partner in MUFG Retirement Solutions are engaged across the spectrum of our target Funds. Wrkr is collaborating closely with these parties to navigate the shifting regulatory landscape, with a focus on enhancing member and employer engagement and security.

Wrkr continues to develop our API-based solution for payrolls and expects that our ability to meet Payday Super requirements, increase security, and reduce errors will be a differentiating factor for more mature payroll and general ledger providers. Our current proposition and pricing is being well received, and we expect greater urgency in commercial decision-making post the election.

Our financial focus on cost management continues to strike a balance between investment and revenue, while supporting longer-term growth. Growth in our FY25 revenue, when compared to FY24, primarily depends on implementation fees from the Super Funds. Additionally, in preparing for the transition of ClickSuper customers onto the Wrkr Platform, the team is completing a reconciliation of historical payments to enable the effective shutdown of the system and support migration of data. There are early indications of unreconciled amounts and when we finalise the reconciliation, we will determine if any provision for credit losses is required which may impact EBITDA results for FY 2025.

Wrkr continues to hold adequate capital to deliver on the current growth objectives and licence requirements.

Other

The cash expenditure incurred on the operating activities of the business in the quarter is summarised as follows:

- $1,673k Staff costs
- $362k Administration and corporate costs
- $434k Operating costs
- $3k Finance Costs
- $9k Advertising and marketing

As required to be disclosed under ASX Listing Rules, payments to related parties in the current quarter amounted to $43k. This amount is shown in Appendix 4C under Section 6. Payments to related parties of the entity and their associates relate to directors' fees.

Given the recency of our last investor presentations, there will be no presentation following the release of the Q3 FY25 quarterly results. If you have any questions, please utilise our InvestorHub at <https://investorhub.wrkr.com.au/>.
