Lodgement of Police Report Regarding Counterfeit PRISTIN® Omega-3 Products Sold Online in Malaysia

Holista Colltech Limited (ASX: HCT) announces that it has lodged a report with the Royal Malaysian Police regarding counterfeit versions of the Company's PRISTIN® brand Omega-3 fish oil supplement that were sold on two popular e-commerce platforms, Lazada and Shopee.

The report was lodged after a customer called to complain that the products purchased online appeared suspicious. The Company obtained samples which were tested by an independent laboratory. The tests showed that these counterfeit supplements were made from palm oil and not Omega-3, which is derived from fish.

Holista is the market leader in Malaysia for the sale of Omega 3 supplements which are sold under two main brands – PRISTIN® GOLD OMEGA-3 FISH OIL 1200MG SOFTGEL and PRISTIN® OMEGA-3 FISH OIL 1200MG. Both products are halal-certified.

Holista's supplements are only sold at pharmacies licensed by Ministry of Health Malaysia and on Holista-owned webstores - Alterni.com and Holista.global. The counterfeit products were not purchased on any of these approved pharmacies.

To allay concerns of customers and consumer groups, Holista intends to engage relevant regulators and pharmaceutical chains in Malaysia as well as with the Malaysian Dietary Supplement Association and the Persatuan Pengguna Islam Malaysia ("PPIM" or the Malaysian Muslim Consumer Association).

This announcement has been authorised for release by the Board of Directors.
