

Webinar Recording

Taruga Minerals Limited (ASX: TAR, Taruga or the Company) is pleased to advise that a recording of its recent pre-recorded investor webinar, featuring Non-Executive Director Eric De Mori in conversation with Tau Media's Jessica Fertig, is now available for viewing via the link below and on the Company's website.

The webinar provides shareholders with a detailed overview of Taruga's transformational 12-month option to acquire the East Normanby Gold Project and the Kol Mountain Copper-Gold Project in Papua New Guinea.

During the discussion, Eric outlines the strategic rationale for the acquisition, the scale of the geological opportunity, and the potential for rapid resource growth driven by the exceptional shallow high-grade trenching and drilling results at Weioko. The conversation also covers the district-scale upside at East Normanby, the Tier-1 porphyry potential at Kol Mountain, the low-strip development optionality, and Taruga's disciplined capital and risk-management approach.

The webinar also addresses several investor-focused questions relating to exploration plans, funding strategy, and how the acquisition structure balances risk while preserving significant upside for shareholders.
