CLARIFYING ANNOUNCEMENT

Australian Oil Company (ASX:AOK) provides a clarification regarding a market announcement released on 9 February 2026.

To address the requirements of Listing Rule 5.29, the Company provides the additional information, along with the original image:

- Hematite Petroleum Pty Ltd completed the survey;
- 2D seismic survey undertaken;
- Survey completed in 1982
- Survey conducted on permit ATP 145 P (this subsequently became permit PL264)

Figure 1 presents a representative seismic line used in structural and stratigraphic interpretation across the Emu Apple field and supports field mapping and prospect definition.
