4. Data & AI

3. Software

“Every company is a software company”

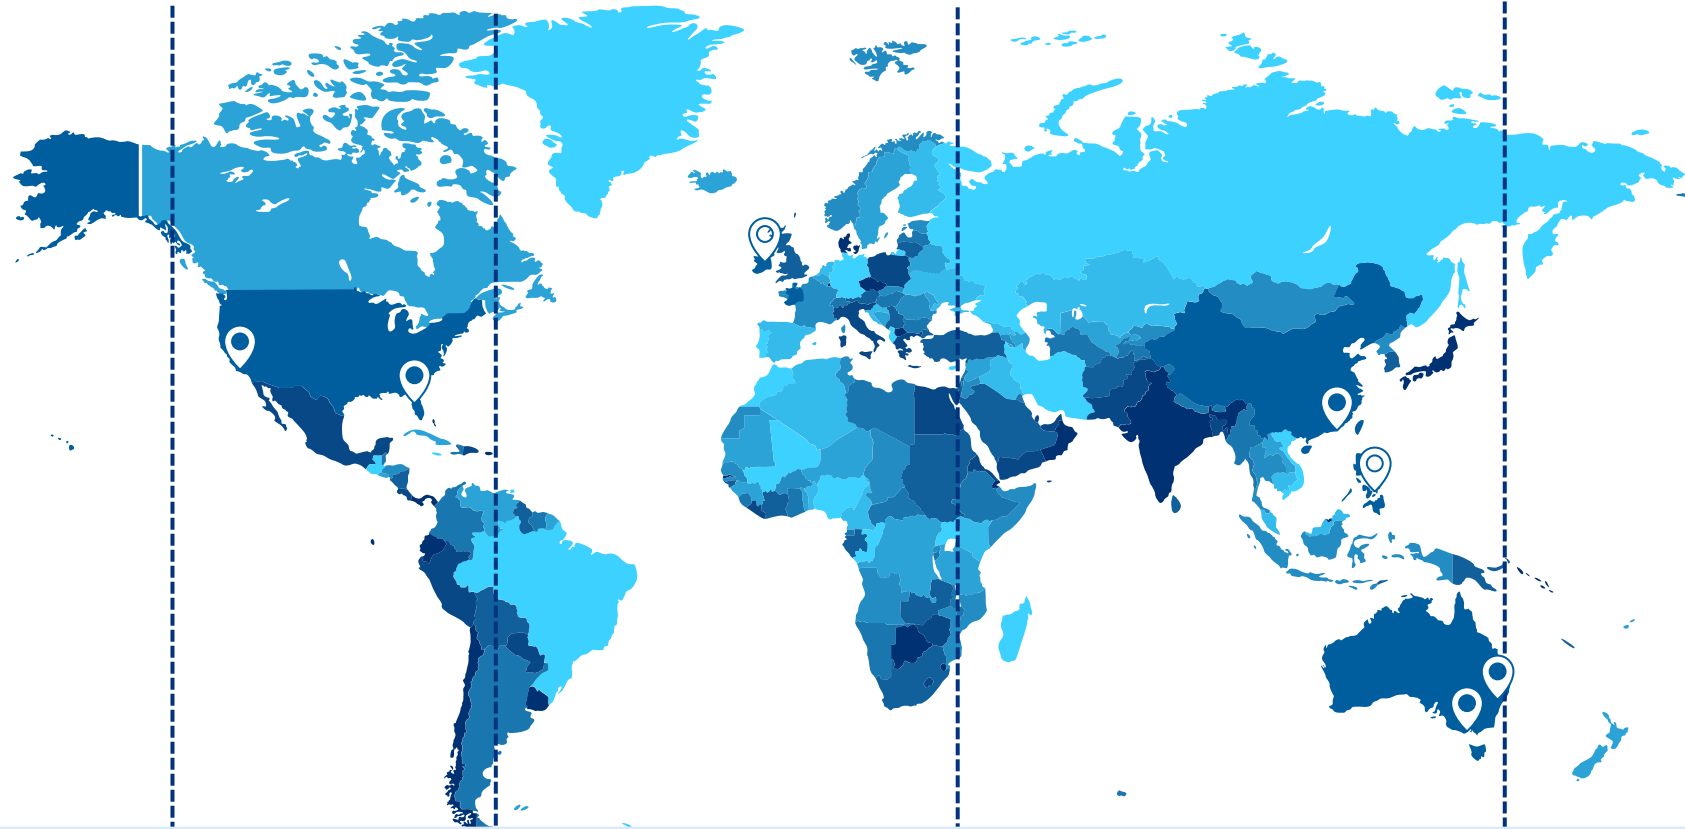

2. M&A

2. Increased M&A Opportunities

1. There's been a large influx of M&A activity since 2021, driven largely by a surge in private equity (PE) investment
 - "August 2021 is considered a landmark time, marked by TowerBrook Capital Partners' investment in EisnerAmper, signaling a major move of private equity into the accounting sector."
2. Lower valuations
 - "A sale of UK accounting firm Xeinadin has collapsed after its private equity owners failed to get their desired £1bn-plus price tag, signalling that investor appetite in professional services may be starting to wane."
3. More supply as AI fear drives action
 - "AI is driving an increase in accounting firms being offered for sale by accelerating the industry's shift toward technology-driven, high-efficiency models, leaving traditional, manual-based firms struggling to compete. "
4. "Dead" PE deals will provide acquisition opportunities in the next 5 years
 - "Some (PE firms) have struggled to achieve their hoped-for returns, leading some investors to fear that valuations have risen too high."
5. Separate the leadership driven, tech enabled from the rest
 - "Future valuations will favor firms that use AI to unlock capacity for higher-value, advisory, and consulting services, rather than just transaction processing."
6. Attitude and age to a degree matter for AI adoptions
7. Implementation (is the hard work) matters and K+P has a playbook and a track record

Digital development and initiatives

4. AI: How will AI disrupt the accounting industry?

“I have a question for the next earnings as quite some shareholders in KPG got a bit nervous after the AI developments last weeks and where Claude Code and others can very easy make and do what you want / need .

Would it be possible to show out of your list with 80+ tasks the main contributors to KPGs revenue and discuss whether these are vulnerable to AI or whether you are offering a solution including AI? I think this could address a lot of fear in the market towards the impact of AI to accountancy firms.”

AI will transform how accountants work, not replace what they do. Routine compliance will automate; advisory value will increase.

Will AI eliminate accountants?

No – but roles will evolve

- AI lacks professional judgment and deep context
- Cannot provide legal accountability
- No capacity for relationship trust
- Complex tax law requires interpretation
- Strategic advice needs human insight

Precedent: Spreadsheets & tax software didn't eliminate accountants – they increased demand

Can AI auto-file tax returns?

For simple returns – largely exists today

Simple PAYG (myTax pre-fill)

- ATO pre-fills 95%+ of data

SME & Complex (KPG's clients)

- Business structures, CGT, trusts
- Tax planning & entity decisions
- 90% of SME owners use professionals

AI handles data entry & calculations; humans handle strategy, risk & relationships

Kelly+Partners' Opportunity

AI as productivity multiplier

- Automate routine compliance
- More time for advisory services
- Higher value per client
- Improved partner productivity
- Strengthen trusted relationships

Private business clients need tax strategy, not just tax filing

KPG Position: AI will handle routine compliance for simple filers — freeing our accountants to focus on what private business clients truly value: tax optimisation, wealth protection, and trusted advice.

4. AI: will K+P not keep up with AI developments?

Recent Share Price Movements

“Hello I am a Canadian investor in KPG. I am concerned with the radical drawdown in share price of late.”

“Just wanted to get in touch to ask if there are any news that might be causing the recent share price decline please? Can not see any announcements on your website nor any other news media.”

“I have been a long term shareholder of KPG and very admirable about the ability of the company to set and then achieve growth targets. I have enjoyed a share price rise from $1.35 right up to $13+ so the recent fall to $7.12 is fairly disconcerting, particularly without the regular dividend payments. Is there something I should be concerned about or that I am missing - I would like to remain a long term shareholder but not real keen on eroding any further gains”

Taking advantage of the share price

“Keen to see how Brett and the KPG team apply the Warren Buffet maxim of being greedy when others are fearful, as the KPG share price performance is showing some fear. (Large volumes in the last few weeks and significant share price decline).”

“As you might be already aware, KPG's stock has not been doing good lately. I am a long-term shareholder. I am down quite a bit but have no plans to exit. The question I wanted to ask however is does KPG have any plans to do any buybacks at these prices to give confidence to shareholders?”

Mark Leonard

Constellation Software
2009 President's Letter, page 2

“And when we think about Invested Capital, we think about the shareholder capital that has been invested in the businesses, plus any Adjusted Net Income less any distributions. Obviously, when you divide Adjusted Net Income by Invested Capital, you get a measure of the return on our shareholders’ investment (i.e. ROIC). If you add Organic Net Revenue Growth to ROIC, you get what we believe is a proxy for the annual increase in Shareholders’ value. In a capital intensive business, you couldn’t just add Organic Net Revenue Growth to ROIC, because growing revenues would require incremental Invested Capital. In our businesses we can nearly always grow revenues organically without incremental capital.”

Parent & NCI Waterfall

- The profit attributable to the parent vs. NCI represent a 26%/74% split and differs from the ownership interests of ~51%/49%.
This is due to the following items:
 - Income tax expense of $1.4m of the parent entity. As the majority of operating businesses are structured as partnerships, the income tax expense attributable to non controlling interests in these partnerships is not included in the consolidated accounts
 - Parent entity additional investments above the Services Fee and IP License Fee income that it receives which is borne 100% by the parent entity
 - Non recurring items as detailed in the prior slide (note that some non recurring items are incurred within the operating businesses where the expense is shared with NCI). The non recurring items shown here are those that were borne 100% by the parent
 - Interest from debt attributed to the parent used to fund acquisitions
 - Depreciation on central services' office fitouts in the US and Australia

- Revenue seasonality in the accounting businesses is approximately 1H: 52% / 2H: 48%.
- Seasonality is predominantly due to timing of tax work related to 30 June year end, with most work typically completed in the first 9 months of the year.
- The Group also engages in a small amount of audit work which is mostly completed by the 31 October lodgement deadline. Audit work represents less than 4.0% of group revenues.
- Earnings split between 1H / 2H may also be impacted by level of additional investments by the parent entity and timing of in year acquisitions

- Owner earnings represent the cashflow available to the parent entity. Owner earnings is used to measure cashflow to the Group (after taxes and finance costs) after taking in to account:

- additions or reductions in working capital investment (debtors, creditors and other accrual movements);
- deductions required for the maintenance capital expenditure of the business to maintain ongoing operations in the long term

- For the parent entity, owner earnings equates to Cashflow from Operating Activities as there is minimal capital expenditure required to maintain the activities of the parent entity
- One off expenses relating to the strategic review and acquisition costs has been excluded from owner earnings for the purposes of comparing to Underlying NPATA (which excludes these one off expenses)
- For first half owner earnings calculations, owners’ earnings have been adjusted to take in to account the timing impact of tax payments
