STATE OF THE MARKET

Deal and exit activity improved through 2025, particularly in the second half, supported by more stable financing conditions and a gradual narrowing of the valuation gap between buyers and sellers, although pricing discipline and selectivity remain key features of the market.

In this environment, managers are prioritising outcome optimisation over speed. Exit timing is increasingly driven by asset readiness, buyer depth and achievable pricing rather than the exit markets being uniformly open.

---

The AUD strengthened against the USD by 7.8% over the past 12 months, resulting in a ~7% translation headwind to reported AUD returns.

CD1 - Path to Completion

- Portfolio-level liquidity option was formally explored for Fund 1 and Fund 2, as outlined in late 2025.
- While multiple proposals were received, pricing and structural terms were not aligned with the Manager's expectations. Priority was given to the expected short-term asset-by-asset outcomes over an expedited capital return.
- Manager and RE remain open to secondary solutions where pricing aligns with underlying value. Based on current asset positioning, we expect material progress toward fund completion over the next 12-24 months, subject to execution timing.
- Fund economics (which include accounting, audit and ASX listing fees) are reviewed on a continual basis to ensure that operating costs are not excessive. Any change will be communicated per ASX guidelines for Unitholder consideration.

Current Fund Positioning

- Six individual portfolio companies were realised during 2025, at an average gross MOIC of 3.04x.
- 58 remaining active portfolio companies across 13 underlying funds.
- Exposure within the portfolio to tech (and AI) has proven beneficial to fund-level returns. The majority of the remaining portfolio companies continue to demonstrate strong operating growth, with the average valuation being at 2.6x cost.
- Early realisations were completed at an advanced rate, with rollover equity retained in a number of businesses.
- Asset-by-asset remains the realisation strategy; however, the Manager may explore portfolio-level liquidity options in the medium term following the realisation of certain underlying portfolio companies.
- While the market price discount to NTA largely reflects broader listed private equity market conditions, NTA movement and the realisation and return of capital via distributions is expected to be the primary driver of returns.

Current Fund Positioning

- One realisation in 2026 resulted in nominal proceeds for the LP. Rationalisation of Fund and LP cash balances enabled the distribution of $0.12 per unit during 2025.
- Capital has been deployed across the portfolio of 107 active private U.S. businesses.
- Early exits are occurring, with higher-performing portfolio companies continuing to scale as the PE Manager works to maximise performance and focus on earnings & revenue growth. Average valuation as at 31 December 2025 of 1.8x cost.
- Realisations expected to emerge progressively over 2026–2029, with the back-ended return profile consistent with fund structure. Individual asset timing continues to depend on operational readiness and market conditions.
- Asset-by-asset realisation remains the primary strategy for the Fund, however portfolio-level solutions may be considered where they enhance investor outcomes.
