Truscott Mining Corporation Ltd (TRM)

Truscott Mining Corporation Ltd (Truscott or Company) acknowledges that it received a letter from ASX dated 12 August 2025 advising that the Company's operations must comply with ASX listing Rule 12.1 and that ASX will monitor reports and announcements for compliance purposes.

Latest correspondence from ASX

“Based solely on the information provided, ASX does not intend to suspend TRM on 15 February 2026 (being the 6 month anniversary of ASX’s query letter dated 15 August 2025), however ASX reserves all rights and will be monitoring TRM’s disclosures and levels of activity for the purpose of Listing Rule 12.1 (including for disclosure of progress and results from the RC drilling program at the Westminster Project announced on 10 February 2026).”

The Company can confirm that drilling commenced on our Westminster project on 10 February and that the first hole has been completed. Depending on the weather and any other factors beyond our control, Truscott expects that the drilling should be completed within 3 weeks of commencement. With the current level of exploration activities in Australia the Company may not receive the last of the assay results for about six to eight weeks from the completion of the drilling program.

This letter has been authorised and approved by the Board in accordance with its published continuous disclosure policy.

Yours sincerely

Michael J Povey
Company Secretary
