

New Product Release – Ninja RAW

Melbourne, Australia - Atomos Limited ('ASX:AMS', 'Atomos' or the 'Company'), provides an update on the release of its Ninja RAW monitor recorder, which is available now through Atomos resellers worldwide and via the Atomos web store.

Ninja RAW is a compact 5-inch HDR monitor recorder designed for filmmakers, content creators, and broadcasters using HDMI mirrorless and DSLR cameras. Ninja RAW enables direct recording in Apple ProRes and ProRes RAW from the camera sensor to CFexpress Type B media or external USB-C storage, supporting up to 6K at 30fps. Ninja RAW also includes camera control over key settings, such as start/stop, ISO, shutter, aperture, and white balance, on supported cameras.

Ninja RAW extends the next generation Ninja range, providing creators with a more accessible option while retaining the core monitoring and recording performance Atomos is known for. Ninja RAW is priced at USD $699, EUR €699, GBP £599 and AUD $999, excluding local sales taxes.

This is the 6th product release of new and upgraded products in the last 12 months, reinforcing progress against Atomos' future product roadmap (refer Link) and supporting the Company's commercial momentum.

Atomos Managing Director and CEO, Peter Barber, said, "Ninja RAW brings next generation ProRes RAW recording and precise monitoring into a compact and portable solution for creators who need mobility and control on set."

Key Features of Ninja RAW:

- 5 inch, 1500 nit HDR touchscreen display
- Record up to 6K at 30fps over HDMI
- Record Apple ProRes, ProRes RAW, and H.265 direct from the camera sensor to CFexpress Type B media or external USB C storage
- Supports ProRes RAW, ProRes RAW HQ, ProRes LT, ProRes 422, and ProRes 422 HQ
- Camera control for supported cameras, including start stop, ISO, shutter, aperture and white balance
- Monitoring tools including EL Zone false colour, focus peaking, waveform, and vectorscope

This announcement has been authorised for lodgement with ASX by the Board of Directors.
