ASX ANNOUNCEMENT

CONNEQT Pulse Recognised by AARP as a Best Blood Pressure Monitor of 2026

Highlights:

- CONNEQT Pulse named one of the “Best Blood Pressure Monitors of 2026” by AARP.
- Recognised as having the “Most Comprehensive Data” of all devices tested.
- AARP is one of the largest and most trusted consumer organisations in the United States, with a membership exceeding 38 million.
- Recognition reinforces Pulse’s clinical differentiation and supports continued U.S. commercial growth.

CONNEQT Health Limited (ASX: CQT) (“CONNEQT” or “the Company”) is pleased to announce that its CONNEQT Pulse arterial health monitor has been recognised by the American Association of Retired Persons (“AARP”) as one of the “Best Blood Pressure Monitors of 2026”, and specifically awarded “Most Comprehensive Data” in its category.

AARP is a leading non-profit, non-partisan organisation in the United States focused on empowering people aged 50 and over to improve their health, financial security and quality of life. With a membership base exceeding 38 million people and a print readership of over 70 million, AARP is regarded as a trusted source of consumer health information, product recommendations, and advocacy.

The recognition highlights the differentiated capabilities of the CONNEQT Pulse, which delivers clinically validated cardiovascular insights beyond standard blood pressure measurement, including central blood pressure and other arterial health metrics through the Company’s proprietary SphygmoCor® technology.

Craig Cooper, CEO, CONNEQT Health commented:

“Recognition from AARP as the ‘Most Comprehensive Data’ blood pressure monitor is a strong validation of our strategy to bring clinically meaningful cardiovascular insights into the home.

AARP is one of the most trusted consumer organisations in the United States, particularly among demographics most at risk of hypertension and cardiovascular disease. This acknowledgement reinforces the relevance of Pulse within this large and growing market.”
