Dear Mr Vinay

Noble Helium Limited ('NHE' or 'Company') – Response to ASX Price and Volume Query

We refer to your letter dated 31 March 2026 and as requested, we set out below the Company's response to your queries (using the numbering in your letter) as follows:

1. Is NHE aware of any information concerning it that has not been announced to the market which, if known by some in the market, could explain the recent trading in its securities

NHE is of the opinion that the global macro environment has driven the interest in global helium markets and in particular the recent conflicts in the Middle East, which NHE believes could explain the recent trading in NHE's securities. More specifically, severe market constraints have materialised and there is a global focus on developing new sources of supply:

- QatarEnergy halted production at Ras Laffan on March 2 after it had been hit by drone and missile attacks. It also declared force majeure, stating it will not restart LNG and helium production until the Middle East conflict has completely ended. Two of the Ras Laffan LNG trains were destroyed and will take between 3-5 years to rebuild. The Pearl GTL facility and other LNG infrastructure were also hit by strikes on March 18-19.
- Ras Laffan's nameplate capacity for Helium is 2.22 Bcf/yr (equivalent to ~25% of world supply). (source - The Business Research Company). With Ras Laffan now offline, global helium supply has been cut by a third overnight, sending spot prices up 35–50%.
- Industry experts warn that the logistical complexity of repositioning helium containers and rebuilding supply chains means the current disruption could translate into a minimum three-month supply interruption before meaningful volumes resume. It may also turn out to be a much longer period than three months.

NHE notes that it has been having ongoing discussions with its advisors regarding proposed funding strategies to advance its flagship North Rukwa Project. NHE considers that it is apparent from its market announcements that additional funding would be required to implement its drilling program at the North Rukwa Project and improve NHE's financial position. NHE had no reason to believe that information regarding a proposed capital raising and not yet announced could explain the recent trading in securities.

2. If the answer is Yes,
- (a) Is NHE relying on Listing Rule 3.1A not to announce that information under Listing Rule 3.1? Please note that the recent trading in NHE's securities would suggest to ASX that such information may have ceased to be confidential and therefore NHE may no longer be able to rely on Listing Rule 3.1A. Accordingly, if the answer to this question is "yes", you need to contact us immediately to discuss the situation.*
- (b) Can an announcement be made immediately? Please note, if the answer to this question is "no", you need to contact us immediately to discuss requesting a trading halt (see below).*
- (c) If an announcement cannot be made immediately, why not and when is it expected that an announcement will be made?*

As above, NHE notes that it has been having early stage and confidential discussions with its advisors regarding proposed funding strategies to advance its flagship North Rukwa Project. At the time trading in NHE's securities was paused by ASX, the terms of the proposed capital raising had not been determined or agreed (including the structure, size, pricing and timing) and NHE had not entered into any arrangement to facilitate a capital raising in order to be able to release an announcement to ASX. Nonetheless, to ensure full transparency in light of recent trading in its securities, NHE requested a trading halt at 10.36am (AWST) on Tuesday, 31 March 2026 to allow time to expedite discussions regarding its funding strategy and conclude negotiations regarding a capital raising, and release an announcement with the terms of the capital raising (which was released on the ASX platform today) promptly without delay.

3. If the answer to question 1 is "no", is there any other explanation that NHE may have for the recent trading in its securities?

See the response to question 1 above.

4. Please confirm that NHE is complying with the Listing Rules and, in particular, Listing Rule 3.1.

The Company confirms that it is complying with the Listing Rules and, in particular, Listing Rule 3.1.

5. Please confirm that NHE's responses to the questions above have been authorised and approved under its published continuous disclosure policy or otherwise by its board or an officer of NHE with delegated authority from the board to respond to ASX on disclosure matters.

The Company confirms that the responses have been approved by the Board of NHE.

Kind Regards
