

SPP Funds to Accelerate Energy Ink, EdgeiQ and Discovery Pipeline

Strategic Elements Ltd (ASX: SOR) is pleased to advise that applications under its current Share Purchase Plan (SPP)¹ have exceeded the $1,000,000 base target, with approximately $1.2 million received within a few business days of the offer opening.

Due to the early response to the SPP, and mindful that some shareholders relying on postal delivery may only recently have received their documentation, the Board has resolved to accept oversubscriptions up to a maximum capped amount of $2,500,000 to accommodate additional shareholder participation (as contemplated by the terms of the SPP).

The additional funding provides flexibility to accelerate activities:

Australian Advanced Materials - Energy Ink™ – Moisture Energy

Recent development has achieved more than a 1,000% increase in energy generation compared with ambient conditions².

The Company is advancing multiple Energy Ink™ development pathways, including a visual demonstration program designed to showcase the ability to boot up and complete a mobile phone call powered solely by moisture-derived energy.

Energy Ink is initially focused on applications where existing power sources face practical limitations (e.g. flexibility, operation without sunlight, low-toxicity materials and non-flammability).

Additional funding may accelerate:

- Materials development and integration across multiple pathways
- Technology demonstrations and scale-up
- International collaboration in battery denied and interactive applications

Stealth Technologies - EdgeiQ™ – Operational Intelligence

EdgeiQ turns live operational data into better human and AI decisions through automation, robotics and computer vision. The long-term vision is to transform operational blind spots into operational intelligence that improves thousands of operational decisions.

Mining provides an attractive initial market because many of the same operational blind spots are repeated across thousands of operations globally. A significant commercial milestone was recently achieved through a pilot deployment with a major mining company.

EdgeiQ is initially focused on mining, with the underlying capabilities applicable across a range of industries facing similar challenges in capturing and utilising live operational data to improve human and AI decision-making.

Additional funding may accelerate:

- EdgeiQ platform development and enhancement
- Pilot deployments and commercialisation
- Expansion into new sectors (e.g. defence, construction)

Discovery Pipeline
