

Patent infringement claim update

US Court grants JP Morgan Chase motion to dismiss

1 June 2026 - Identitii \(ASX:ID8\) ('Identitii', 'the Company') (ASX:ID8) provides the following update on its US patent infringement claim against JPMorgan Chase.

On 29 May 2026 (US time) the US District Court for the District of Delaware issued a Memorandum Opinion granting JPMorgan's motion to dismiss the proceedings.

The Court held that the asserted claim of the Company's US Patent No. 10,984,413 is directed to patent ineligible subject matter under 35 USC § 101. The dismissal is with prejudice with respect to Identitii's First Amended Complaint.

Commenting on the announcement, John Rayment, CEO of Identitii, said: "We are obviously disappointed with the Court's decision. We conferred with our US legal counsel over the weekend and, because we believe strongly in our intellectual property, we intend to appeal the court's decision."

The Company will provide more information on proceedings as soon as it comes to hand.

Impact on operations

The US patent matter is separate from Identitii's commercial operations. BNDRY, the Company's financial crime compliance infrastructure for Australian venues operating electronic gaming machines, continues to operate as normal, unimpacted by the ruling.

Ends

This announcement has been approved and authorised to be given to ASX by the CEO of Identitii Limited.
