Ophir High Conviction Fund (ASX:OPH) – Investor Update

Dear Investor,

On 17th June 2026, we will be providing a video update on our Funds, including the Ophir High Conviction (ASX:OPH, “the Fund”).

1. Market insights & Fund performance*

Australian markets were solidly up in May. The ASX 200 ended the month up +1.2%, and the ASX Small Ordinaries Index gained +2.0%.

Australian large-cap value outperformed value, with the MSCI Australia Value Index up +3.4%, while the MSCI Australia Growth Index fell -1.6%.

Certain growth pockets of the market rebounded in May, with the Technology sector up +12.8% for the ASX Small Ordinaries Index.

For the month ending 31st May 2026, the Net Asset Value (NAV) of the Fund gained +6.2% (net of fees), outperforming the benchmark, which gained +1.9%. The OPH ASX price rose +3.9% over the month.

*We note past performance is not a reliable indicator of future performance.

2. Stocks in Focus

A top contributor over the month

One of the largest contributors to performance for the month was Megaport (ASX: MP1), a data centre compute company. The share price ended the month up +69.4% after the company reaffirmed their guidance as well as announced a $254 million dollar compute contract. This supports the company’s growth profile for the medium to long term.

A top detractor over the month

One of the largest detractors from performance for the month was Zip Co (ASX: ZIP), a buy-now-pay-later service provider. The share price ended the month down -5.4%, giving back a little of its 56.8% gain in April after a strong profit upgrade.

3. OPH trading at a discount

We note the OPH share price traded at a discount to its Net Tangible Asset per share (NTA) for May 2026.

We like the opportunity to buy low throughout the cycle, whether that is stocks in our own Funds, or OPH itself with our own personal investments.

4. OPH buy-back facility

We commenced utilising the buy-back facility for OPH during March 2020 as markets sold off during the early stages of COVID-19. The buyback facility was rolled for another 12 months on the 9th January 2026, and we will continue to utilise this where we see good value on offer in the OPH unit price. We have a process and rules in place for when we use the facility in the market to buy back OPH units. We remain committed to this facility and process and will continue to use this mechanism where we believe it is in the best interests of all unitholders and accretive to performance of the Fund over the long term.

We remain as hard working as ever to find and allocate to those small and mid-cap businesses listed in Australia that we believe can significantly grow earnings and provide attractive risk-adjusted returns over the medium to long term.

Your sincerely,

Andrew Mitchell & Steven Ng
