The mine is operated by Alara’s joint venture company Al Hadeetha Resources LLC (AHRL), in which Alara holds a 51% interest.

Production Outlook

Following unprecedented rainfall in March affecting mine production, the mine returned strongly in April and has continued to deliver strongly in May and June YTD.

Similarly, the concentrator has delivered above nameplate production, with exception in April owing to the planned shutdown for SAG Mill reline. Performance upon startup with consistent May and June YTD run rates above nameplate, are positioning the Al Wash-hi Majaza asset to deliver its best FY performance since inception.
