ASX RELEASE - I Synergy Group Limited (ASX: IS3)

Strategic MoU with Macau Direch to Explore Digital Economy Collaboration

I Synergy Group Limited (ASX: IS3) ("I Synergy" or "the Company") is pleased to advise that it has entered into a non-binding Strategic Memorandum of Understanding with Macau Direch Investment Technology Company Limited ("Macau Direch"), a technology and investment company incorporated in the Macau Special Administrative Region ("the MoU").

The MoU establishes a strategic framework for cooperation between the parties to explore, develop and commercialise opportunities across a range of emerging technology and digital economy sectors, including artificial intelligence (AI), blockchain technologies, digital financial assets, digital asset infrastructure, real world asset (RWA) tokenisation, AI and GPU computing infrastructure, digital certification technologies and cross-border digital economy initiatives.

Areas of strategic cooperation

Under the MoU, the parties intend to collaborate across the following key areas:

- Blockchain and digital financial assets, including digital asset infrastructure, digital securities, stablecoins, tokenised assets, institutional digital asset and custody services, digital wallet technologies and cross-border digital settlement;
- The joint exploration of the establishment, operation and supporting ecosystem of a Digital Financial Assets Exchange in Macau, spanning exchange and trading infrastructure, digital asset listing, compliance frameworks, custody and settlement solutions;
- Investment opportunities across AI companies, blockchain projects, digital infrastructure, FinTech, Web3 and other emerging technologies;
- A digital certification and lab-grown diamond initiative, including blockchain-based diamond certification, digital product passports, supply chain traceability and the tokenisation of certified diamonds; and
- International business development and joint media and brand development activities across Australia, Macau, Greater China, ASEAN and the Middle East.

Nature of the MoU and next steps

The MoU is non-binding, except in relation to provisions concerning confidentiality, governing law, costs and dispute resolution. It reflects the parties' present intention to cooperate and forms the basis for progressing discussions towards potential definitive agreements. Neither party is obliged to proceed with any transaction unless and until definitive agreements are executed.

At this stage, there are no binding financial commitments or obligations arising from the MoU, and each party will bear its own costs in relation to the MoU. The MoU is governed by the laws of the Macau Special Administrative Region, People's Republic of China.

Where commercially appropriate, the parties may negotiate and enter into one or more definitive agreements, which may include joint venture, investment, share subscription, technology cooperation, licensing, distribution, commercial services and digital asset infrastructure agreements. Any such agreements would remain subject to due diligence, commercial negotiations, and any necessary corporate and regulatory approvals.

This initiative supports the Company's broader strategy to diversify into emerging technologies and the digital economy, with a focus on innovation and international expansion across the Asia-Pacific region.

The Company will continue to update shareholders in accordance with its continuous disclosure obligations as discussions progress.
