Austco Healthcare Secures A$4.2 Million Maintenance Contract at Jurong Health Complex, Singapore

Austco Healthcare Limited (ASX: AHC) ("Austco") is pleased to announce that its subsidiary, Austco Marketing & Service (Asia) Pte Ltd, has been awarded a ten-year maintenance contract for the Tacera Clinical Care Communications solution at the Jurong Health Complex in Singapore, which includes the Ng Teng Fong General Hospital and the Jurong Community Hospital.

The contract is valued at approximately A$4.2 million and runs from 1 October 2026 to 30 September 2036. Revenue will be recognised over the term of the agreement.

The contract extends Austco's relationship with Jurong Health Complex, where the Company previously delivered the Tacera solution under contracts announced in November 2023 and September 2024. It converts part of Austco's installed base into long-term, recurring service and maintenance revenue, supporting the Company's strategy to grow predictable recurring revenue alongside project sales.

Austco expects to provide further details as part of the FY26 results, which will be released in August 2026.

Austco Chief Executive Officer Clayton Astles said:

"This ten-year agreement extends our relationship with Jurong Health Complex and demonstrates the customer's continued confidence in Austco's Tacera platform and our Singapore team. It provides long-term revenue visibility from an established installed base and supports our strategy to grow recurring service and maintenance revenue alongside project sales."

The award confirms Austco's standing as a trusted long-term partner to leading healthcare providers in Asia and adds to the Company's growing base of recurring service revenue.

This announcement has been authorised for release by the Board of Austco Healthcare Limited.
