Appointment of Chief Financial Officer

Regis Healthcare Limited (ASX:REG) today announced the appointment of Mr Stuart Hooper as its new Chief Financial Officer (CFO), effective 1 September 2026.

Mr Hooper is a highly accomplished finance executive with comprehensive experience across the healthcare, infrastructure, and corporate finance sectors. Most recently, he was Chief Financial Officer at Bupa Asia Pacific, where he played a critical role in driving financial performance and supporting transformative customer initiatives across the healthcare business.

Prior to joining Bupa, Mr Hooper spent nine years with infrastructure services company Ventia (ASX:VNT), the majority of which he served as Group CFO. Earlier in his career, he spent more than a decade with PwC, specialising in mergers and acquisitions and assurance services.

Regis Managing Director and CEO Mr Andrew Kinkade said, "We are delighted to welcome Stuart to Regis. Stuart brings an exceptional track record of financial leadership, extensive M&A expertise, and deep knowledge of the healthcare sector. His experience and leadership capabilities position him strongly to support Regis as we continue to execute and pursue our next stage of growth."

Commenting on his appointment, Mr Stuart Hooper said, "I am delighted to join Regis at such an important time for both the company and the broader aged care sector. I look forward to working closely with the Board and the executive team to further strengthen the company's performance, deliver strategic growth initiatives and create long-term value for residents, families, and shareholders alike."

As previously advised, the outgoing CFO, Mr Rick Rostolis retires from Regis on 31 August 2026.
