1 Figures are approximate

Sohar Port in Oman experienced exceptional congestion in August due to ongoing regional shipping disruptions. This significantly constrained berth availability and vessel-loading windows, preventing concentrate shipments earlier in the month.

Berthing was successfully secured in late August, enabling the three accumulated parcels to be loaded and dispatched together in a single shipping cycle. Mine and Concentrator production have remained unaffected, with concentrate inventory well managed pending vessel availability.

Parcel 60

Following an isolated handling incident at Sohar Port, six containers from previous parcels, containing a total of 134.00 WMT of copper concentrate, were held at the port. These containers were also cleared and dispatched as an additional parcel on 25 August 2026.
