Chairman's letter to shareholders

Dear Shareholders,

On behalf of the Board, I am pleased to present the Knosys Annual Report for the year ended 30 June 2026 (FY26).

Knosys is an innovative technology company developing and commercialising enterprise software positioned as a critical "System of Record" in the global AI value chain. Our products help large organisations securely integrate external AI tools while providing a single source of verified information to reduce data inconsistency and strengthen confidence in their systems.

FY26 marked an important step as we prepare to commercialise our new and enhanced library management solution while maintaining revenue stability and cash generation across our enterprise knowledge management suite. Over the past two years, we have completed a significant product development program to build the next generation of library management solutions. I am pleased to report that this work is now largely complete and we have clearly moved into the commercialisation phase.

Revenue remained stable at $9.7m, down 2%, while operating expenses rose 6% to $12m, including one-off internal restructure costs and resulting in a net loss after tax of $2.5m. Multi-year contracts with our major enterprise customers in Knowledge Management and with our library customers in Australia and Germany underpinned Annual Recurring Revenue (ARR) at $9.0m.

In early 2026, we decided to exit the intranet and employee experience product vertical and gradually migrate our GreenOrbit customer base to the UK-based Oak Engage. This process is underway, and we are now earning commissions from Oak for customers who migrate to the Oak Engage platform, even as we experience attrition in the GreenOrbit customer base.

The Knosys Board transitioned to new leadership in FY26. I joined the Board as Non-Executive Chairman in October 2025. I thank the previous Chairman, The Hon. Alan Stockdale, for his significant contribution in guiding the Company over the past nine years. Alan remains on the Board as a Non-Executive Director. I also thank former non-executive directors, Mr Neil Wilson and Ms Kathrin Mutinelli, for their contribution.

We are entering an exciting new growth phase as we prepare to launch the Libero Community Experience & Discovery Hub in US public libraries in late 2026. We are confident that our next-generation library management solution has a clear value proposition and strong positioning against competitors and incumbents.

On behalf of the Directors, I thank the whole Knosys team for their continued hard work and dedication throughout the year. I also thank our shareholders for their ongoing support as we seek to expand in the US and scale internationally.

FY26 Financial Highlights

In FY26, Knosys focused on revenue stability and cash flow generation, as the Company moved towards the commercialisation phase of the new Libero product and the phased transition out of the intranet market.

Key financial metrics for the consolidated entity in the 2026 financial year were encouraging given the Board's decision to exit the company's intranet business:

- License and support fee revenues were broadly maintained at $9.5m (FY25: $9.6m);
- Total operating revenue for the consolidated entity was broadly maintained at $9.7m (FY25: $9.8m);
- Total income for the consolidated entity, including R&D rebate, was broadly maintained at $10.4m (FY25: $10.7m);
- Reflecting increased investment in Libero solutions, the net loss after tax for the consolidated entity was $2.5m (FY25: Net loss after tax of $1.5m); including non-cash charges for depreciation and amortisation of $0.85m;
- Net cash inflow from operating activities was $2.2m (FY25 cash outflow of $1.2m), and
- The consolidated entity had net assets of $3.6m at 30 June 2026 (FY25: $5.9m) and held cash and cash equivalents of $4.9m (FY25: $2.8m).

FY26 Review of Operations

Sales revenue stabilised at $9.7m, down 2%, underpinned by low volatility recurring revenue streams for Libero and KIQ with key contract extensions and new customers including:

- ANZ Bank: Two-year contract extension for a total of $3.8m
- Libero 6 library management system cloud service: Oberon Council, Fliedner University, Wuchopperen Health Service and Balranald Shire Council.
- Five existing Libero customers expanded their subscriptions to add the Libero new mobile library application
- Sixty existing Libero customers renewed their annual subscriptions.

In January 2026, Knosys announced a new agency agreement with Oak Engage to introduce the Oak intranet and employee experience platform to Knosys' GreenOrbit (GO) customer base as a technology upgrade. Knosys experienced some attrition in its GreenOrbit customer base in 2H FY26, reflecting its decision to exit this business over time. This trend is expected to continue over the next 18 months; however, this will be mitigated by commissions now being earned from OAK for customers who migrate to the Oak Engage platform.

From an operational perspective, FY26 was a year of two halves. In 1H FY26, Knosys completed a significant phase of its Libero product development program. In November 2025, the Company restructured internally to pivot its development program towards localising the Libero software and the Libero Mobile app for the US market. The Company also commenced preparations to commercialise these enhanced products in the US library management software market in FY27 and, as a learning experience, tendered for US library business.

Operating expenses of $12m were up 5% on pcp, due to higher contractor and consulting costs, higher SaaS hosting costs and one-off expenses relating to the restructure, resulting in an EBITDA loss of $1.6m and a net loss after tax of $2.5m.

Importantly, Knosys enters FY27 with a structurally lower cost base and new revenue growth potential.

Knosys reported net operating cash flow of $2.2m and a cash balance of $4.9m as at 30 June 2026.

Investment in core AI activities

Knosys is leveraging AI to both enhance its core Software-as-a-Service (SaaS) products, positioning them as critical "Systems of Record" in the global AI value chain and in Knosys' own business.

By establishing a single source of verified information, Knosys allows large organisations to securely integrate external AI tools while eliminating the risk of data inconsistency.

Knosys is embracing AI in its own operations:

- Operational Scalability: Knosys deploys advanced AI toolsets internally to streamline corporate tender responses, automate marketing content creation, and fast-track technical documentation and customer training programs.
- Accelerated Development: R&D teams use AI to accelerate the innovation cycle, enabling rapid feature prototyping, faster code deployment, and continuous modernisation of legacy codebases.
- Libero Platform Enhancements: Knosys is accelerating library modernisation by embedding machine learning directly into its next-generation Libero platform. This automates back-end workflows such as cataloguing and metadata indexing, freeing up library resources, while natural language processing powers advanced search and highly personalised user recommendations.

Building and commercialising the digital town square for public libraries

Modern libraries require a unified foundation for patron discovery, engagement and branch operations. The Libero Community Experience & Discovery Hub has a mobile-first user experience, an all-in-one system with relatively fast deployment, and is content provider agnostic.

The USA is the world's largest library market

The US public and academic library sector accounts for 40% of the total addressable market (TAM) globally and offers long-term contract stability. It is 10x the size of Australia, offering strong growth potential and a shorter sales cycle due to its sheer size.

The competitive landscape is dominated by legacy systems built for a pre-cloud environment or earlier cloud technologies. The industry is ripe for disruption with libraries actively switching to credible modern independent alternatives in the market today.

Libero is cloud-native, mobile-first and deployable in ~10 weeks, vs 6-12 months for legacy systems.

1. 1. According to the Global Gender Gap Report (2025), women make up only 28 % of the STEM workforce

Outlook

Knosys enters FY27 with a firm focus on the further international commercialisation of Libero, with detailed go-to-market plans underway. Marketing activities in the US commenced in Q1 FY27, including the launch of a new US website, the activation of a US-based telemarketing team to introduce Libero to the market, and the preparation for relocation of resources from Australia to the US to support the sales process during the year. Knosys is already tendering for the use of the Libero solutions in the US library market.

In addition, Knosys is working on the next generation Libero 7 program, which is expected to be ready for commercial sale in FY27. Libero 7 is the next generation library management solution, featuring enhanced automation and personalisation, enabling replacement of 2-5 patron-facing systems with a primary focus on public libraries.

Review of operations and financial performance

Refer to Managing Directors Report on page 7.

Material business risks

The material business risks faced by the consolidated entity that could have an effect on its financial prospects include:

Growth, profitability and positive cashflow

The ability of the consolidated entity to self-fund its operations and strategic plans is dependent on its ability to maintain and grow its revenue line and its ability to manage operational expenses to achieve positive or near breakeven operational results and cashflows.

The consolidated entity monitors revenues, expenses and cashflows on a monthly basis, adjusting operational expenses and cash flows, if needed, to maintain self-funded operations. The consolidated entity is ASX listed and has access to capital markets, if required.

Loss of key customers

The consolidated entity's top two enterprise customers contribute 20.7% and 12.9% of annual revenue respectively. The loss of the commercial relationship with either one of these customers could cause a material reduction in annual revenue, if not replaced with new business, and would require the company to reduce its operational costs accordingly.

The consolidated entity continues to pursue the expansion and diversification of its customer base and geographic markets, broaden its product offerings, invest in technological innovation and provide dedicated customer service.

The consolidated entity has and continues to expand its customer base, broaden its product offerings, invest in technological innovation and provide dedicated customer service.

Technological advancements

The consolidated entity operates in the information technology environment which is subject to rapid changes and developments in products and solutions. Without an appropriate level of research and development by the consolidated entity's its solutions risk becoming outdated and uncompetitive.

The consolidated entity engages in market research, seeks customer feedback and invests in technological research and development in order to maintain its technological competitiveness.

Competitive environment

Existing competitors and new entrants to the market who may have greater resources and/or new leading edge technologies could reduce the competitiveness of the consolidated entities solutions and pose a risk to it maintaining and growing recurring revenues.

The consolidated entity continually researches the market in order to understand and adapt to the competitive environment in which it operates.

Access to capital markets

The consolidated entity's ability to grow rapidly or to deal with unforeseen adverse commercial outcomes may depend in part on its ability to access equity funding. There can be no assurance that any such equity funding will be available to the consolidated entity on favourable terms and, if so, the consolidated entity may not be able to take advantage of growth opportunities or respond fully to adverse circumstances.

The consolidated entity has the flexibility to adjust its expenditure to match the level and availability of internal and external funding sources and has the ability to self-fund selected growth initiatives.

Legislative change

The consolidated entity is subject to the general legislative frameworks of the markets in which it operates and is therefore affected by any legislative changes, along with its competitors. The consolidated entity invests in research and development and regularly receives an annual tax rebate of $500,000 or greater. The consolidated entity is currently of the size where a change in tax legislation, that adversely affects the consolidated entity's ability to claim this rebate, could compromise the consolidated entity's ability to fully fund its desired level of research and development.

The consolidated entity has the flexibility to adjust its expenditure to match the level and availability of internal and external funding sources.

Supplier relationships

The consolidated entity relies on its world leading primary hosting provider to host SaaS solutions and managed services to the majority of its customers. Should the provider suffer outages due to exceptional circumstances which cause disruption to the hosting service the consolidated entity's products and services may also be disrupted.

The consolidated entity has in place its own back-up, disaster recovery and contingency plans and the consolidated entity advises its customers that they should also put such plans in place.

Trade tariffs and other geo-political tensions

The consolidated entity could be exposed to trade tariffs and other geo-political tensions in the markets in which it operates.

The consolidated entity provides licenced software to customers in three product lines, knowledge management, intranet and library management. Approximately 70% of total income is sourced from Australia and New Zealand. The balance of 30% is sourced mainly from US, EU (Germany) and UK. Due to the limited geographic spread and the nature of the consolidated entity's software licencing business it is considered that trade tariffs and other geo-political tensions are currently not a material risk for the consolidated entity.

Foreign currency exchange rate fluctuations

The consolidated entity's revenues and expenses could be impacted by material fluctuations in foreign exchange rates.

The consolidated entity sources approximately 70% of its total reported income in Australian dollars, including the invoicing of certain foreign customers in AUD. The balance of 30% of total income is sourced in foreign currency. A 10% appreciation or depreciation in the Australian dollar would result in an annual impact of approximately 3% of total income. The company also has a natural hedge against the majority of its foreign currency income, with certain expenses sourced in US and EU currency. It is considered that foreign currency exchange rate fluctuations are not a material risk for the consolidated entity.

Data security and privacy requirements

The consolidated entity operates in the information technology sector, which potentially has higher exposure to data security risks and to risks of breach of privacy requirements.

The consolidated entity does not store sensitive data on behalf of customers, nor does it hold personal information (within the meaning of the Privacy Act 1988) other than normal employee data for its employees. The consolidated entity has in place its own back-up, disaster recovery and contingency plans, which are normal business practice for its industry. It is considered that data security and privacy requirements are not a material risk for the consolidated entity.

Principal activities

During the financial period the principal continuing activities of the consolidated entity were computer software development and licencing.

Dividends

No dividends were paid or declared during the financial year.

Significant changes in the state of affairs

There were no significant changes in the state of affairs of the consolidated entity during the financial year, other than those matters mentioned above.

Matters subsequent to the end of the financial year

No matter or circumstance has arisen since 30 June 2026 that has significantly affected, or may significantly affect the consolidated entity's operations, the results of those operations, or the consolidated entity's state of affairs in future financial years.

Likely developments and expected results of operations

Knosys expects a continued expansion of the library and knowledge management markets and the adoption of its range of software solutions designed to boost productivity, collaboration and connectivity in the digital workplace. The Company is well placed to expand its customer base, in particular in Australia, US and Europe, and to enhance its product offerings through internal developments and further advances in technologies.

The consolidated entity plans to continue its investment in product development in its library management services product in the year to June 2027 in order to enable the Company to take advantage of its position in the local and global library management solutions market. The consolidated entity plans to pursue revenue growth in the US through the marketing and sale of its Libero library management software solution to the US library market.

The consolidated entity has a growing sales pipeline in its global markets. The Company plans to continue the acceleration of its investment in product development in its library management services product in the year to June 2026 in order to enable the Company to take advantage of its position in the library management solutions market.

Given the size and competitive nature of the market in which the consolidated entity operates, further information on likely sales opportunities, planned product development and the expected results of operations of the consolidated entity have not been included in this report. The directors have utilised the exemption in s299A(3) and have not disclosed further details as they believe it would be likely to result in competitors gaining a commercial advantage and could lead to unreasonable prejudice to the operations and financial prospects of the consolidated entity.

Environmental regulation

There are no environmental regulations under Australian Commonwealth or State laws that have a material impact on the consolidated entity.

Remuneration Report (audited)

The remuneration report details the key management personnel remuneration arrangements for the consolidated entity, in accordance with the requirements of the Corporations Act 2001 and its Regulations.

Key management personnel are those people who have authority and responsibility for planning, directing and controlling the activities of the entity, directly or indirectly, including all directors.

The remuneration report is set out under the following main headings:

- Principles used to determine the nature and amount of remuneration
- Details of remuneration
- Service agreements
- Share-based compensation
- Additional disclosures relating to key management personnel

Principles used to determine the nature and amount of remuneration

The objective of the consolidated entity's executive reward framework is to ensure reward for performance is competitive and appropriate for the results delivered. The framework aligns executive reward with the achievement of strategic objectives and the creation of value for shareholders. The Board of Directors ('the Board') ensures that executive reward satisfies the following key criteria for good reward governance practices:

- competitiveness and reasonableness
- acceptability to shareholders
- performance linkage / alignment of executive compensation
- transparency

The performance of the consolidated entity depends on the quality of its directors and executives. The remuneration philosophy is to attract, motivate and retain high performance and high-quality personnel. The executive remuneration framework is structured to be market competitive and complementary to the strategy of the consolidated entity.

Non-executive directors' remuneration

Fees and payments to non-executive directors reflect the demands and responsibilities of their role. Non-executive directors' fees and payments are reviewed annually by the Board. The Board may, from time to time, receive advice from independent remuneration consultants to ensure non-executive directors' fees and payments are appropriate and in line with the market. No such advice was sought for the financial year ended 30 June 2026. The chairman's fees are determined independently to the fees of other non-executive directors based on comparative roles in the external market. The chairman is not present at any discussions relating to the determination of his own remuneration.

ASX listing rules require the aggregate non-executive directors' remuneration be determined periodically by a general meeting. The current maximum aggregate remuneration payable to non-executive directors of the consolidated entity in any financial year is $500,000.

Executive remuneration

The consolidated entity aims to reward executives with a level and mix of remuneration based on their position and responsibility, which has both fixed and variable components.

The executive remuneration and reward framework has four components:

- base pay, superannuation and non-monetary benefits
- short-term performance incentives
- share-based payments
- other remuneration such as long service leave

The combination of these comprises the executive's total remuneration.

Fixed remuneration, consisting of base salary, superannuation and non-monetary benefits, are reviewed annually by the Board, based on individual performance and the overall performance of the consolidated entity and comparable market remunerations.

Executives may receive their fixed remuneration in the form of cash or other fringe benefits (for example motor vehicle benefits) where it does not create any additional costs to the consolidated entity and provides additional value to the executive.

The short-term incentives ('STI') program is designed to align the targets of the business with the targets of those executives responsible for meeting those targets. STI payments are granted to executives based on specific targets and/or key performance indicators ('KPI's') being achieved. These targets are discussed in further detail in the description of service agreements which forms part of this Remuneration Report.

The long-term incentives ('LTI') include long service leave and share-based payments. Options are awarded to executives, vesting over a period of three years based on elapsed time and/or achievement of long-term incentive measures.

Consolidated entity performance and link to remuneration

Remuneration for certain individuals is directly linked to the performance of the consolidated entity.

A portion of cash bonus and incentive payments are dependent on defined revenue and earnings targets being met. The remaining portion of the cash bonus and incentive payments are at the discretion of the Board.

In considering the performance of the consolidated entity and benefits for shareholder wealth, the remuneration committee have regard to the following indices in respect of the current financial year and the previous financial years.

Revenue	9,668,604	9,837,057	9,630,249	9,947,859	8,916,995

- The non audit services provided do not undermine the general principles relating to auditor independence as set out in APES 110 Code of Ethics for Professional Accountants (including Independence Standards) as they did not involve reviewing or auditing the auditors own work, acting in a management or decision making capacity for the consolidated entity, acting as an advocate for the consolidated entity or jointly sharing risks and rewards.

Notes to the financial statements 30 June 2026

Note 1. Material accounting policy information

The principal accounting policies adopted in the preparation of the financial statements are set out below. These policies have been consistently applied to all the years presented, unless otherwise stated. The amendment to AASB 101 'Presentation of Financial Statements' requires the consolidated entity to disclose material accounting policy information rather than significant accounting policies. Accounting policy information is material if, when considered together with other information included in the consolidated entity's financial statements, it can reasonably be expected to influence decisions that the primary users of general purpose financial statements make based on the financial statements.

New or amended Accounting Standards and Interpretations adopted

The consolidated entity has adopted all of the new, revised or amending Accounting Standards and Interpretations issued by the Australian Accounting Standards Board ('AASB') that are mandatory for the current reporting period.

Any new or amended Accounting Standards or Interpretations that are not yet mandatory have not been early adopted.

The consolidated entity has assessed that these new or amended Accounting Standards and Interpretations will not have any material effect on the financial statements of the company for this reporting period.

Basis of preparation

These general purpose financial statements have been prepared in accordance with Australian Accounting Standards and Interpretations issued by the Australian Accounting Standards Board ('AASB') and the Corporations Act 2001, as appropriate for for-profit oriented entities. These financial statements also comply with International Financial Reporting Standards as issued by the International Accounting Standards Board ('IASB').

Historical cost convention

The financial statements have been prepared under the historical cost convention.

Critical accounting estimates

The preparation of the financial statements requires the use of certain critical accounting estimates. It also requires management to exercise its judgement in the process of applying the consolidated entity's accounting policies. The areas involving a higher degree of judgement or complexity, or areas where assumptions and estimates are significant to the financial statements, are disclosed in Note 2.

Legal Parent entity information

In accordance with the Corporations Act 2001, these financial statements present the results of the consolidated entity only. Supplementary information about the legal parent entity is disclosed in Note 21.

Foreign currency translation

The financial statements are presented in Australian dollars, which is Knosys Limited's presentation currency. The consolidated entity operates in functional currencies relative to the specific geographical location of the entity within the consolidated entity.

Foreign currency transactions

Foreign currency transactions are translated into Australian dollars using the exchange rates prevailing at the dates of the transactions. Foreign exchange gains and losses resulting from the settlement of such transactions and from the translation at financial year-end exchange rates of monetary assets and liabilities denominated in foreign currencies are recognised in profit or loss.

Foreign operations

The assets and liabilities of foreign operations are translated into Australian dollars using the exchange rates at the reporting date. The revenues and expenses of foreign operations are translated into Australian dollars using the average exchange rates, which approximate the rates at the dates of the transactions, for the period. All resulting foreign exchange differences are recognised in other comprehensive income through the foreign currency reserve in equity.

The foreign currency reserve is recognised in profit or loss when the foreign operation or net investment is disposed of.

Revenue recognition

The consolidated entity recognises revenue as follows:

Revenue from contracts with customers

Revenue is recognised at an amount that reflects the consideration to which the consolidated entity is expected to be entitled in exchange for transferring goods or services to a customer. For each contract with a customer, the consolidated entity: identifies the contract with a customer; identifies the performance obligations in the contract; determines the transaction price which takes into account estimates of variable consideration and the time value of money; allocates the transaction price to the separate performance obligations on the basis of the relative stand-alone selling price of each distinct good or service to be delivered; and recognises revenue when or as each performance obligation is satisfied in a manner that depicts the transfer to the customer of the goods or services promised. Any amounts billed in-advance of the fulfilment of the aforesaid performance obligations are deferred on the statement of financial position as a contract liability, or where billed in-arrears, as a contract asset.

Variable consideration within the transaction price, if any, reflects concessions provided to the customer such as discounts, rebates and refunds, any potential bonuses receivable from the customer and any other contingent events. Such estimates are determined using either the 'expected value' or 'most likely amount' method. The measurement of variable consideration is subject to a constraining principle whereby revenue will only be recognised to the extent that it is highly probable that a significant reversal in the amount of cumulative revenue recognised will not occur. The measurement constraint continues until the uncertainty associated with the variable consideration is subsequently resolved. Amounts received that are subject to the constraining principle are initially recognised as deferred revenue in the form of a separate refund liability.

Rendering of services

Revenue from a contract to provide services is recognised over time as the services are rendered based on either a fixed price or an hourly rate.

The consolidated entity earns revenues from its software services. Of these, a portion relates to licensing and support of its software, which is performed over a period of time and for which revenue is recognised over a period of time due to the customer only having a right of access over the software throughout the contract period. For software implementation services provided to the customer, which is specified in the customer contract, revenue is recognised over time as that implementation is performed and the customer can directly benefit from that implemented service without ongoing support or licensing provided by the consolidated entity.

Research and development tax refund income

Research and development tax refund income is measured on an accruals basis when the refund can be reliably determined.

Interest

Interest revenue is recognised as interest accrues using the effective interest method. This is a method of calculating the amortised cost of a financial asset and allocating the interest income over the relevant period using the effective interest rate, which is the rate that exactly discounts estimated future cash receipts through the expected life of the financial asset to the net carrying amount of the financial asset.

Refer to Note 26 segment note for a disaggregation of revenue per geographical location.

Intangible assets

Intangible assets acquired as part of a business combination, other than goodwill, are initially measured at their fair value at the date of the acquisition. Intangible assets acquired separately are initially recognised at cost. Indefinite life intangible assets are not amortised and are subsequently measured at cost less accumulated impairment losses. Finite life intangible assets are subsequently measured at cost less accumulated amortisation and impairment losses. The gains or losses recognised in profit or loss arising from the derecognition of intangible assets are measured as the difference between net disposal proceeds and the carrying amount of the intangible asset. The method and useful lives of finite life intangible assets are reviewed annually. Changes in the expected pattern of consumption or useful life are accounted for prospectively by changing the amortisation method or period.

Goodwill

Goodwill arises on the acquisition of a business. Goodwill is not amortised. Instead, goodwill is tested annually for impairment, or more frequently if events or changes in circumstances indicate that it might be impaired and is carried at cost less accumulated impairment losses. Impairment losses on goodwill are taken to profit or loss and are not subsequently reversed.

Research and development

Research costs are expensed in the period in which they are incurred. Development costs are expensed as they have not satisfied the requirement for capitalisation under AASB 138 – Intangible assets.

Impairment of non-financial assets

At each reporting date, the consolidated entity's Directors review the carrying values of the consolidated entity's tangible and intangible assets to determine whether there is any indication that those assets have been impaired. If such an indication exists, the recoverable amount of the asset, being the higher of the asset's fair value less cost to sell and value in use, is compared to the assets carrying value. Any excess of the assets carrying value over its recoverable amount is expensed to the statement of profit or loss and other comprehensive income.

Recoverable amount is the higher of an asset's fair value less costs of disposal and value-in-use. The value-in-use is the present value of the estimated future cash flows relating to the asset using a pre-tax discount rate specific to the asset or cash-generating unit to which the asset belongs. Assets that do not have independent cash flows are grouped together to form a cash-generating unit.

Employee benefits

Share-based payments

Equity-settled share-based compensation benefits are provided to employees.

Equity-settled transactions are awards of shares, or options over shares, that are provided to employees in exchange for the rendering of services.

The cost of equity-settled transactions are measured at fair value on grant date. Fair value is independently determined using either the Black-Scholes option pricing model, the Binomial Option Valuation model or the Hoadley Barrier option valuation model, each of which takes into account the exercise price, the term of the option, the impact of dilution, the share price at grant date and expected price volatility of the underlying share, the expected dividend yield and the risk free interest rate for the term of the option, together with non-vesting conditions that do not determine whether the consolidated entity receives the services that entitle the employees to receive payment. No account is taken of any other vesting conditions.

The cost of equity-settled transactions are recognised as an expense with a corresponding increase in equity over the vesting period. The cumulative charge to profit or loss is calculated based on the grant date fair value of the award, the best estimate of the number of awards that are likely to vest and the expired portion of the vesting period. The amount recognised in profit or loss for the period is the cumulative amount calculated at each reporting date less amounts already recognised in previous periods.

Market conditions are taken into consideration in determining fair value. Therefore any awards subject to market conditions are considered to vest irrespective of whether or not that market condition has been met, provided all other conditions are satisfied.

If equity-settled awards are modified, as a minimum an expense is recognised as if the modification has not been made. An additional expense is recognised, over the remaining vesting period, for any modification that increases the total fair value of the share-based compensation benefit as at the date of modification.

If the non-vesting condition is within the control of the consolidated entity or employee, the failure to satisfy the condition is treated as a cancellation. If the condition is not within the control of the consolidated entity or employee and is not satisfied during the vesting period, any remaining expense for the award is recognised over the remaining vesting period, unless the award is forfeited.

If equity-settled awards are cancelled, it is treated as if it has vested on the date of cancellation, and any remaining expense is recognised immediately. If a new replacement award is substituted for the cancelled award, the cancelled and new award is treated as if they were a modification.

Contract liabilities

Revenue billed in advance represents contract liabilities that the consolidated entity is obliged to transfer services to a customer and are recognised when a customer pays consideration, or when the consolidated entity recognises a receivable to reflect its unconditional right to consideration (whichever is earlier) before the consolidated entity has transferred the goods or services to the customer.

New Accounting Standards and Interpretations not yet mandatory or early adopted

Australian Accounting Standards and Interpretations have recently been issued or amended and have not been adopted by the consolidated entity for the annual reporting period ended 30 June 2026. These are not listed in this report because the consolidated entity has assessed that these new or amended Accounting Standards and Interpretations will not have a material effect on the financial statements of the company for the reporting period commencing 1 July 2025.

Note 2. Critical accounting judgements, estimates and assumptions

The preparation of the financial statements requires management to make judgements, estimates and assumptions that affect the reported amounts in the financial statements. Management continually evaluates its judgements and estimates in relation to assets, liabilities, contingent liabilities, revenue and expenses. Management bases its judgements, estimates and assumptions on historical experience and on other various factors, including expectations of future events, management believes to be reasonable under the circumstances. The resulting accounting judgements and estimates will seldom equal the related actual results. The following key judgements are relevant to these financial statements:

Estimation of accrued research and development tax refund

As at 30 June 2025 the consolidated entity had accrued $1,317,220 in accrued research and development (R&D) tax refund credits in-respect of the 2024 tax return ($617,220) and the 2025 tax return ($700,000). The directors of the consolidated entity engaged an industry experts to prepare and lodge the R&D applications and the tax returns for these years.

An amount of $625,757 was received in August 2025 in accordance with the June 2024 tax return and R&D claim. The total amount was made up of R&D receivable of $617,220 and interest of $8,537. An amount of $729,873 was received in May 2026 in accordance with the June 2025 tax return and R&D claim. The total amount was made up of R&D receivable of $726,961 and interest of $2,912.

Based upon the methodology adopted by the industry expert, the consolidated entity has accrued a research and development tax refund receivable of $682,474 for the June 2026 financial year. Key matters considered by the directors in calculating this accrual included the following:

- The historical success of lodging and receipting such claims;
- The quantum of eligible research and development spend made during the period; and
- A consideration of any potential change in the assessment of eligibility criteria as gazetted by the Federal government.

Over past years, the consolidated entity has successfully claimed for and receipted cash from the Australian Taxation Office (ATO) in respect of credits for its R&D program. Under the R&D Tax Incentive program, the ATO has the right, extending back 4 tax years, to investigate audit and potentially clawback these claims if they fail to meet the necessary criteria as established under the R&D credit claim legislation and regulations. It is the directors' view that there is no probable likelihood that any potential action may take place, based upon the following reasons:

- The consolidated entity engages a third party industry expert each year to advise on R&D processes and eligible R&D expenditure and to prepare and lodge the R&D claim;
- Upon submission of the R&D claim, the ATO and AusIndustry conduct an overall desktop review of the claim;
- The industry environment in which the entity deals in is known for its R&D activities which have historically been supported through R&D claims; and
- The consolidated entity has a track record, extending to its most recent claim, of not being challenged on its R&D claims by the ATO or AusIndustry.

Share based payments

As stated in Note 1, the consolidated entity has issued options and loans shares to directors, executives and staff as part of their remuneration arrangements and has issued options and shares to third parties in consideration for consultancy services received. Management judgements and estimates are required in determining the cost of these equity-settled transactions which have been measured by taking into account the exercise price, the term of the option, the impact of dilution, the share price at grant date and expected price volatility of the underlying share, the expected dividend yield and the risk free interest rate for the term of the option, together with non-vesting conditions that do not determine whether the consolidated entity receives the services that entitle the employees to receive payment.

Goodwill and other indefinite life intangible assets

The consolidated entity tests annually, or more frequently if events or changes in circumstances indicate impairment, whether goodwill and other indefinite life intangible assets have suffered any impairment, in accordance with the accounting policy stated in Note 1. The recoverable amounts of cash-generating units have been determined based on value-in-use calculations. These calculations require the use of assumptions, including estimated discount rates based on the current cost of capital and growth rates of the estimated future cash flows.

Determination of lease term

In determining the lease term, management considers all facts and circumstances that create an economic incentive to exercise an extension option, or not exercise a termination option. Extension options (or periods after termination options) are only included in the lease term if the lease is reasonably certain to be extended (or not terminated). Potential future cash outflows have not been included in the lease liability because it is not reasonably certain that the leases will be extended (or not terminated). The assessment is reviewed if a significant event or a significant change in circumstances occurs which affects this assessment and that is within the control of the lessee.

Allowance for expected credit losses

The allowance for expected credit losses assessment requires a degree of estimation and judgement. It is based on the lifetime expected credit loss, grouped based on days overdue, and makes assumptions to allocate an overall expected credit loss rate for each group. These assumptions include recent and future sales experience and historical collection rates.

Carrying value at 30 June 2026	3,303,215	2,733,367	16,977	6,053,559

The Customer Contracts and Marketing Assets are identifiable intangible assets and are subject to amortisation, at annual rates of 10% and 20% respectively, as determined by the company, with effect from acquisition date.

Impairment of intangibles

All intangible assets are assessed at each reporting period for indicators of impairment. The consolidated entity operates as a single operating segment and cash generating unit being a developer and licensor of computer software. Intangible assets with an indefinite useful life are assessed for impairment under this cash generating unit.

The recoverable amount of the cash-generating unit is determined based on value-in-use calculations. Value-in-use is calculated based on the present value of cash flow projections for the next five years and the terminal value. The cash flows are discounted using estimated discount rate based on Capital Asset Pricing Model adjusted to incorporate risks associated with the software development sector.

Management has based the value-in-use calculations on five-year budget forecasts of the software developer and licencing business. Revenue has been projected on the below mentioned assumptions. Costs are calculated taking into account historical gross margins as well as estimated weighted inflation rates over the period which is consistent with inflation rates applicable to the locations in which the unit operates. Discount rates are pre-tax and reflect risks associated with the software development business.

The following assumptions were used in the value-in-use calculations:

- Revenue growth for year 1 is based on the Board approved budget of the consolidated entity. An average revenue growth rate of 4% per annum, which excludes the potential benefits from the enhanced Libero software development project, has been estimated for years 2 to 5 of the model (2025:5%). This is considered to be a conservative estimate of the future growth of the business.
- Employment costs for years 1 to 5 are assumed to grow annually at the rate of inflation.
- Projected cash flows have been discounted using a pre-tax discount rate of 13.97% (2025: 13.02%). The consolidated entity is debt free and is therefore not subject to borrowing costs and the beta used is based on market available data.
- An annual growth rate of 2.5% (2025: 2.5%) has been estimated in the calculation of terminal value being in line with comparable market companies.

Based on the above assumptions, the recoverable amount of the cash generating unit has been determined to exceed its carrying amount as at 30 June 2026 and accordingly, no impairment loss has been recognised.

Sensitivity to changes in assumptions

The impairment model is most sensitive to the following assumptions:

- Revenue growth assumptions;
- Employment costs; and
- Discount rate.

No reasonable possible change in assumptions would result in an impairment charge being recognised.

Note 9. Right of use asset

Reconciliation of the carrying values of the Right of Use Asset at the beginning and end of the current and previous financial years, for the consolidated entity, is as follows:

The consolidated entity leases its Melbourne based head office under an agreement of four years duration, with two further extensions, each of two years, on the current lease. The lease has an annual 4% escalation clause. For the reporting period, the consolidated entity paid $126,579 in lease payments and incurred $119,700 in depreciation expense related to the right of use asset and $4,684 on interest expense on lease liability. The consolidated entity leased two serviced offices under specific agreements. These agreements had short-term month to month lease arrangements and are of low-value, so have been expensed as incurred and not capitalised as right-of-use assets and are not considered material to the consolidated entity.

Capital risk management

The consolidated entity's objectives when managing capital is to safeguard its ability to continue as a going concern, so that it can provide returns for shareholders and benefits for other stakeholders and to maintain an optimum capital structure to reduce the cost of capital.

Note 16. Financial instruments

Financial risk management objectives

The consolidated entity's activities expose it to two financial risks: credit risk and liquidity risk. The consolidated entity's overall risk management program, which is managed at Board level, focuses on the unpredictability of financial markets and seeks to minimise potential adverse effects on the financial performance of the consolidated entity. The consolidated entity uses different methods to measure different types of risk to which it is exposed. These methods include ageing analysis for credit risk and cash flow forecasting for liquidity risk.

Credit risk

Credit risk refers to the risk that a counterparty will default on its contractual obligations resulting in financial loss to the consolidated entity. The consolidated entity has a code of credit, including obtaining agency credit information, confirming references and setting appropriate credit limits.

The consolidated entity obtains guarantees where appropriate to mitigate credit risk. The maximum exposure to credit risk at the reporting date to recognised financial assets is the carrying amount, net of any provisions for impairment of those assets, as disclosed in the statement of financial position and notes to the financial statements. The consolidated entity does not hold any collateral.

Liquidity risk

Vigilant liquidity risk management requires the consolidated entity to maintain sufficient liquid assets (mainly cash and cash equivalents) to be able to pay debts as and when they become due and payable. All amounts payable are within agreed terms. All third party payment terms are less than 60 days (2024: less than 60 days).

The consolidated entity manages liquidity risk by maintaining adequate cash reserves by continuously monitoring actual and forecast cash flows and matching the maturity profiles of financial assets and liabilities. All liabilities are to be settled within 12 months except for lease liabilities which are to be settled as per the following categories:

	Consolidated
	2026 $	2025 $
Lease liabilities
Payable at the reporting date:
Within 6 months	63,881	55,120
6 to 12 months	67,831	25,952
1 to 5 years	82,976	-
	214,688	81,072

Foreign currency risk

The consolidated entity undertakes certain transactions denominated in foreign currency and is exposed to foreign currency risk through foreign exchange rate fluctuations. The consolidated entity monitors the materiality of foreign exchange transactions and balances and manages any material exposures to foreign exchange rate fluctuations. At balance date there were no material foreign currency risks.

Fair value of financial instruments

Unless otherwise stated, the carrying amounts of financial instruments reasonably approximate their fair value.

Loan funded share plan and loan funded shares

A loan funded share plan (LFSP) has been established by the consolidated entity, whereby the consolidated entity may, at the discretion of the Board, issue loan funded fully paid ordinary shares in the company to personnel of the consolidated entity. Participants acquire loan funded shares using a loan provided by the consolidated entity. The loan is interest-free and limited recourse in accordance with the loan terms and the LFSP rules. The LFSP rules require the loan to be repaid before a participant can receive any proceeds from the sale of their shares. The Board has the discretion to impose such vesting conditions in relation to the loan funded shares as it deems appropriate. These may include conditions relating to continued employment or service, performance (of the participant, the consolidated entity or the share price) and the occurrence of specific events. The consolidated entity has also issued loan funded fully paid ordinary shares in the company to directors and executives on the same terms as the LFSP. The issuing of these loan funded shares gives rise to an ongoing employment benefit expense each financial period and this is accounted for in accordance with the accounting policy on employee benefits, as detailed in Note 1. The expense is included in the share-based payment expense amount listed in Note 4.

As at 30 June 2026 the following loan funded shares had been granted:

Independent Auditor's Report

Independent auditor's report to the members of Knosys Limited

Report on the audit of the financial report

Opinion

In our opinion, the accompanying financial report of Knosys Limited (the Company) and its subsidiaries (the Group), is in accordance with the Corporations Act 2001, including:

- giving a true and fair view of the Group's financial position as 30 June 2026 and of its financial performance for the year then ended; and
- complying with Australian Accounting Standards and the Corporations Regulations 2001.

What was audited?

We have audited the financial report of the Group, which comprises:

- the consolidated statement of financial position as at 30 June 2026,
- the consolidated statement of profit or loss and other comprehensive income for the year then ended,
- the consolidated statement of changes in equity for the year then ended,
- the consolidated statement of cash flows for the year then ended,
- notes to the financial statements, including material accounting policy information,
- the consolidated entity disclosure statement, and
- the directors' declaration

Basis for opinion

We conducted our audit in accordance with Australian Auditing Standards. Our responsibilities under those standards are further described in the Auditor's Responsibilities for the Audit of the Financial Report section of our report. We are independent of the Group in accordance with the auditor independence requirements of the Corporations Act 2001 and the ethical requirements of the APES 110 Code of Ethics for Professional Accountants (including Independence Standards) issued by the Accounting Professional & Ethical Standards Board Limited (the Code) that are relevant to audits of the financial report of public interest entities in Australia. We have also fulfilled our other ethical responsibilities in accordance with the Code.

We believe that the audit evidence we have obtained is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our opinion.

Key audit matters

Key audit matters are those matters that, in our professional judgement, were of most significance in our audit of the financial report of the current period. These matters were addressed in the context of our audit of the financial report as a whole, and in forming our opinion thereon, and we do not provide a separate opinion on these matters.

Recognition of revenue under service contracts	Area of focus (refer also to notes 1, 3 & 14)	How our audit addressed the key audit matter
	The Group has service contracts with its customers. These service contracts have invoicing, and payment milestones included within their terms, which may or may not be directly aligned with the performance of services under the contract in accordance with AASB 15 Revenue from Contracts with Customers ('AASB 15'). In order to accrue revenue appropriately in the correct accounting period, management has developed a model to recognise revenue when the performance obligation is satisfied in each contract. This includes identifying the specific performance obligations within each customer agreement on commencement. There is judgement in determining the period to which the revenue should be attributed. In applying its revenue model management has considered: — When the performance obligation is identified and satisfied in respect to each component of each contract; and — The potential for any post-contract servicing work to be performed at the conclusion of the contract and whether an additional performance obligation exists. This area was considered a Key Audit Matter due to judgements involved and the significance of the revenue amount.	Our audit procedures included: — Examining management's revenue recognition model to assess if in compliance with AASB 15; — Examining and verifying a sample of customer contracts for the achievement of performance milestones relevant to key customer contracts; — Examining a sample of customer contracts to support the existence and completeness of revenue recognised in the period by agreeing to contract, invoices and subsequent receipts from their customers; and — Performing detailed cut-off testing to assess if revenue transactions at the year-end had been recorded in the correct financial period. We also assessed the appropriateness of financial statement disclosures at notes 1, 3 and 14 with respect to the requirements of AASB 15.

Impairment of non-current assets including goodwill and intangible assets	Area of focus (refer also to notes 1 & 8)	How our audit addressed the key audit matter
	As disclosed in Note 8, the carrying value of the Group's goodwill and intangible assets was $6.05 million. This amount is reflective of the acquisitions of the GreenOrbit Group and Libero Group completed in prior financial periods. As required by Australian Accounting Standards, the Group assesses at the end of each reporting period whether there is any indication that its non-current assets may be impaired. In addition, goodwill and indefinite life intangibles are tested for impairment at least annually. The Group continues to operate as a single Cash Generating Unit ("CGU") being a developer and licensor of computer software. Management has assessed that the activities of the acquired groups operate within this core activity segment. The recoverable amount of the CGU has been calculated based on a value-in-use discounted cashflow model, that examines the expected discounted cashflows of its sole CGU over a five-year period extending from reporting date, plus a terminal value. The Group has disclosed in note 8 the Group's impairment approach including the significant underlying assumptions applied. This area was considered a Key Audit Matter due to complexity of judgements involved in the impairment process and the significance of the carrying amounts of the balances.	Our audit procedures included: — Assessing the appropriateness of the allocation of goodwill and intangible assets to the Group's identified CGU; — An examination of the discounted cashflow model, testing for: a. its arithmetical accuracy; b. the reasonableness of key assumptions applied to approved forecasted cashflows, comparing to historical trends of the business and its pipeline of future sales transactions and the overall industry climate affecting the economics of the business model; and c. the reasonableness of key inputs into the model, including growth rates, the discount rate and the working capital levels associated with the derivation of those growth rates. — Consultation with William Buck Corporate Finance with respect to the discount rate used within the model; — Assessed the Group's current year actual results in comparison to prior year forecasts to assess forecast accuracy; and — Performed sensitivity analysis in respect of the assumptions noted above to ascertain the extent of changes in those assumptions which either individually or collectively would materially impact the recoverable amount of the CGU. We assessed the likelihood of these changes in assumptions arising. We also assessed the adequacy of disclosures in relation to the impairment testing approach and key assumptions as disclosed in notes 1 and 8 of the financial report.

Other information

The directors are responsible for the other information. The other information comprises the information included in the Group's annual report for the year ended 30 June 2026, but does not include the financial report and our auditor's report thereon.

Our opinion on the financial report does not cover the other information and accordingly we do not express any form of assurance conclusion thereon.

In connection with our audit of the financial report, our responsibility is to read the other information and, in doing so, consider whether the other information is materially inconsistent with the financial report or our knowledge obtained in the audit or otherwise appears to be materially misstated.

If, based on the work we have performed, we conclude that there is a material misstatement of this other information, we are required to report that fact. We have nothing to report in this regard.

Responsibilities of the directors for the financial report

The directors of the Company are responsible for the preparation of:

- the financial report (other than the consolidated entity disclosure statement) that gives a true and fair view in accordance with Australian Accounting Standards and the Corporations Act 2001; and
- the consolidated entity disclosure statement that is true and correct in accordance with the Corporations Act 2001, and for such internal control as the directors determine is necessary to enable the preparation of:

- the financial report (other than the consolidated entity disclosure statement) that gives a true and fair view and is free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error; and
- the consolidated entity disclosure statement that is true and correct and is free of misstatement, whether due to fraud or error.

In preparing the financial report, the directors are responsible for assessing the ability of the Group to continue as a going concern, disclosing, as applicable, matters related to going concern and using the going concern basis of accounting unless the directors either intend to liquidate the Group or to cease operations, or have no realistic alternative but to do so.

Auditor's responsibilities for the audit of the financial report

Our objectives are to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the financial report as a whole is free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error, and to issue an auditor's report that includes our opinion. Reasonable assurance is a high level of assurance, but is not a guarantee that an audit conducted in accordance with the Australian Auditing Standards will always detect a material misstatement when it exists. Misstatements can arise from fraud or error and are considered material if, individually or in the aggregate, they could reasonably be expected to influence the economic decisions of users taken on the basis of this financial report.

A further description of our responsibilities for the audit of the financial report is located at the Auditing and Assurance Standards Board website at: https://www.auasb.gov.au/media/bwvjcgre/ar1_2024.pdf

This description forms part of our auditor's report.
