Jupiter's Managing Director Brad Rogers said: "This dividend continues Jupiter's proud track record of returns to shareholders. Our ability to do so reflects the quality of the Tshipi mine and its reliable operation by the Tshipi management team, working with Jupiter and Exxaro. This dividend performance also reflects Jupiter's ongoing cost discipline, noting that this final dividend continues the recent trend of exceeding the amount that Jupiter will receive from Tshipi for the period".

The FY26 final dividend contributes to a total of A$450 million (A$0.23 per share) in dividends declared to Jupiter shareholders over the past eight years, noting that the mine has over 100 years of resource life remaining at current production run rates".
