Ophir High Conviction Fund (ASX:OPH) – Investor Update

Dear Investor,

On 15th September 2026, we will be providing a video update on our Funds, including the Ophir High Conviction Fund (ASX:OPH, “the Fund”).

1. Market insights & Fund performance*

Australian markets were up in August. The ASX 200 ended the month up +1.7%, while the ASX Small Ordinaries rose +5.2%. Australian large cap growth underperformed value, with the MSCI Australia Growth Index down -1.2%, while the MSCI Australia Value Index rose +2.5%.

For the month ending 31st August 2026, the Net Asset Value (NAV) of the Fund rose +4.5% (net of fees), underperforming the benchmark, which rose +5.5%. The OPH ASX price fell -3.9% over the month.

*We note past performance is not a reliable indicator of future performance.

2. Stocks in Focus

A top contributor over the month

One of the largest contributors to performance for the month was Genesis Minerals (ASX:GMD), the gold miner. The share price ended the month up +43.9%. The stock recorded a strong result during reporting season with profit significantly up year on year and a broader gold price rally lifting the whole sector.

A top detractor over the month

One of the largest detractors from performance for the month was Superloop (ASX:SLC), the telecommunications and broadband company. The share price ended the month down -10.0% despite reporting a strong result during reporting season. The company beat guidance but gains were subdued because of profit taking by the market. The stock has been a long-term contributor to the fund and we remain confident in its long-term growth profile.

3. OPH trading at a discount

We note the OPH share price traded at a discount to its Net Tangible Asset per share (NTA) for August 2026.

We like the opportunity to buy low throughout the cycle, whether that is stocks in our own Funds, or OPH itself with our own personal investments.

4. OPH buy-back facility

We utilised the buy-back facility for OPH recently as we saw opportunity in the market given the discount to NTA. The buyback facility was rolled for another 12 months on the 9th January 2026, and we will continue to utilise this where we see good value on offer in the OPH unit price. We have a process and rules in place for when we use the facility in the market to buy back OPH units. We remain committed to this facility and process and will continue to use this mechanism where we believe it is in the best interests of all unitholders and accretive to performance of the Fund over the long term.

We remain as hard working as ever to find and allocate to those small and mid-cap businesses listed in Australia that we believe can significantly grow earnings and provide attractive risk-adjusted returns over the medium to long term.

Your sincerely,

Andrew Mitchell & Steven Ng
