Highlights

- $2.9 million contract awarded by an Australian Federal Government Regulator
- Excite to supply digital forensics and investigative analytics services and associated technology over a 24-month term to September 2028
- Excite's offering will support the investigative work of one of Australia's most prominent regulators
- Strengthens Excite's standing as a trusted supplier of specialist solutions to Australian Government

Excite Technology Services Limited (Excite or the Company) (ASX: EXT) is pleased to announce it has been awarded a contract by a Federal Government Regulator for the supply of technology and associated services. The contract has a total value of $2.9 million over a term of 24 months.

Under the contract, Excite's wholly owned subsidiary, CBIT Pty Ltd will supply the customer with digital forensics and investigative analytics software and associated services for a period of two years, ending September 2028.

Excite CEO and Managing Director, Bryan Saba commented:

"Being selected as the vendor of choice is a powerful vote of confidence in our people and our technology. When digital evidence is at stake, agencies need a partner they can rely on completely, and this award shows the trust that Australian Government customers place in Excite's digital forensics capability."

"We are proud to support the Regulator's important work. This engagement builds on our track record of delivering specialist technology solutions to government, and we look forward to continuing deepen our role as a trusted partner to the public sector."

Key contract terms

- Total contract value: $2.9 million
- Term: 24 months, ending September 2028
- Scope: Digital forensics and investigative analytics technology and associated services

The contract has been entered into on standard Australian Federal Government terms. These terms include a right for the Regulator to terminate the contract, or to vary the scope or quantum of the goods and services supplied under it, at its discretion, as is standard for engagements entered into with Australian Federal Government agencies.

Due to the sensitive nature of the contract, given it has identified the customer as a regulator of the Australian Federal Government and considers that this announcement contains all material information relevant to the awarded contract, the Company does not consider the identity of the Regulator to be information which is material of itself.
