

NARRYER METALS APPOINTS DEAN HILDEBRAND AS NON-EXECUTIVE DIRECTOR

Narryer Metals Limited (Narryer or the Company) (ASX:NYM) is pleased to announce the appointment of Dean Hildebrand as a Non-Executive Director of the Company.

Mr Hildebrand is an experienced finance and investment professional with extensive experience in the natural resources sector, including private equity investment, portfolio management and the evaluation of investment opportunities across the mining and energy industries.

Mr Hildebrand currently manages the investment portfolio of a large family office, Mimaro Group which is a substantial shareholder of the Company. Previously, he was a Director of Black Mountain, a US-based private equity firm focused on upstream and midstream energy and mining investments across the United States and Asia-Pacific regions.

Through these roles, Mr Hildebrand has developed significant experience in investment analysis, capital allocation and strategic investment decisions within the resources sector.

His appointment will further strengthen the Board's financial, investment and strategic capabilities as Narryer continues to advance its portfolio of critical minerals exploration projects in Australia, Canada and Chile.

Narryer Executive Chairman, Richard Bevan, commented:

"We are delighted to welcome Dean to the Narryer Board. Dean brings valuable experience in natural resources investment, capital markets and strategic investment management, which will complement the existing skills and expertise of our Board."

"His experience in evaluating and managing investments across the mining and energy sectors will be particularly valuable as we continue to progress our critical minerals portfolio and assess opportunities to create long-term value for shareholders."

"We look forward to working with Dean and benefiting from his insights and experience as we advance the Company's strategy."

The Board welcomes Mr Hildebrand and looks forward to his contribution to the Company's ongoing development.
