H2G Limited (ASX: H2G) Shareholder Update on our PowerSafe Sodium Ion Batteries

First Commercial Shipments Delivered and National Availability Expanding

H2G Limited (“H2G” or “the Company”) (ASX: H2G) is pleased to update shareholders on commercial progress of our PowerSafe sodium-ion battery range.

The Company has today successfully completed the sale of our first shipment of PowerSafe sodium-ion batteries. As a result, PowerSafe batteries are now in all three eastern Australian states — New South Wales, Victoria and Queensland.

A second shipment of approximately 550 kWh of PowerSafe sodium-ion batteries is due to arrive within weeks, further supporting customer demand.

In addition, H2G’s CEC-approved PowerSafe hybrid inverters are now available for immediate supply alongside our PowerSafe Stackable sodium Ion Batteries. These inverters are specifically matched to the PowerSafe Sodium-ion chemistry and support our residential solar and grid-connected applications.

PowerSafe sodium-ion systems continue to differentiate through inherent safety (non-flammable chemistry with no thermal runaway risk), long cycle life, temperature resilience more suited to Australian conditions, low carbon footprint and full recyclability.

H2G will continue to provide updates as further shipments arrive and as sales convert from the existing pipeline.
