MARKET UPDATE

Monvia signs teaming agreement

SYDNEY, Australia: Monvia Limited (ASX: MNV) (Monvia or the Company) is pleased to announce that it has entered into an agreement with Capgemini Australia Pty Limited (Capgemini) to collaborate on opportunities in the Australian and New Zealand life insurance and superannuation markets by way of a teaming agreement (Agreement).

The Agreement brings together Monvia's modern cloud-first platform and Capgemini's deep industry expertise, consulting and delivery capabilities to help clients accelerate transformation and achieve better business outcomes for the financial services sector.

Specific commercial commitments arise when the parties execute the relevant opportunity documentation and subsequently enter into the required customer and subcontracting arrangements.

The Agreement has an initial term of three years and is automatically renewed for successive one-year periods unless terminated in accordance with its terms.

Monvia Chief Executive Officer, Simon Bright, said:

"Life insurers and superannuation funds are increasingly seeking modern, flexible technology platforms together with the implementation capacity and transformation expertise required to deliver complex change successfully.

By combining Monvia's platform and domain expertise with Capgemini's implementation capability, industry experience and delivery scale, we believe the parties will be well positioned to pursue selected opportunities and offer clients a strong combination of technology and delivery expertise."

This announcement was authorised for release by the Board of Monvia Limited.
