FY26 Performance

- Our businesses have remained resilient in a complex economic environment. Activity levels lifted in Q2 and Q3 across most lines of business, but then quickly fell as higher fuel prices impacted consumer demand. We promptly adjusted our fuel recovery mechanisms
- The focus on improving margins remains intact, and it is pleasing to see progress across a range of our businesses. We are also focused on improving those that are lagging
- Economy services continued to enjoy higher demand than higher priced premium services
- The Australian EP businesses continued their impressive contribution with Allied performing particularly well and VTFE contributing 5 months of earnings
- Balance sheet in the mid-range of policy post the VTFE acquisition

Trading Update

Q1 FY27

Q1 FY27

- Fuel prices fluctuated but generally remained elevated through Q1
- High fuel prices have the dual impact of;
  - elevating revenue and costs (through fuel adjustment factors that recover fuel costs)
  - dampening consumer demand – particularly for discretionary retail and hospitality spending
- Additionally the AU economy has taken a turn with higher interest rates and lower economic growth
- Despite these macro headwinds the business has recorded a resilient Q1 trading result

Q1

Consolidated Performance - Unaudited

- Revenue growth driven by higher fuel recovery in EP&BM and the addition of VTFE
- Continued to win market share and in most cases have been able to recover cost increases through pricing
- Strong performance from the IM division with consistent performance across all lines of business
- Premium services remain subject to lower demand, particularly overnight airfreight and temperature controlled delivery
- This led to margin contraction for NZC and BCD, which, together with the impact of higher fuel on revenue, drove margins down over the quarter

	Notes	Q1 FY27 $m	Q1 FY26 $m	Change %
Operating Revenue		408.3	347.1	17.6

Q1

Express Package & Business Mail - Unaudited

- Strong revenue growth of 20% with key contributors being;
  - VTFE 9%
  - Fuel 5%
- Post Haste and DX Mail brands performed strongly – reflecting leading positions in their respective niches and higher demand for their services
- Effective pricing to recover cost of operating
- Premium services remain impacted in NZ, and margin neutral fuel levies lead to EP margin contraction
- Despite the environment 10% growth in EBITA is a positive result

Outlook

- Our businesses have proven to be resilient over the past 3 years of soft NZ economic activity. In NZ same-customer activity was recovering and positive before the war in the Middle East, some customer segments have struggled since fuel prices have risen
- In both markets, we expect that same-customer volumes will remain subdued but we expect them to improve progressively if there is a sustained fall in fuel prices in the future. This could be more pronounced in NZ than Australia
- The pace of Australian recovery may be dependent on broader economic conditions
- Additional capacity in Christchurch and Palmerston North and the investment in Evolve (our new billing and rating systems) will support long term growth in the NZ Express Package division
- We will continue to grow our EP presence in both B2B and B2C in Australia
- Margin improvement remains a focus, across all businesses and particularly with the IM division in AU
- We will continue to have a proactive focus on targeted M&A that is complementary to growing our Australian express network

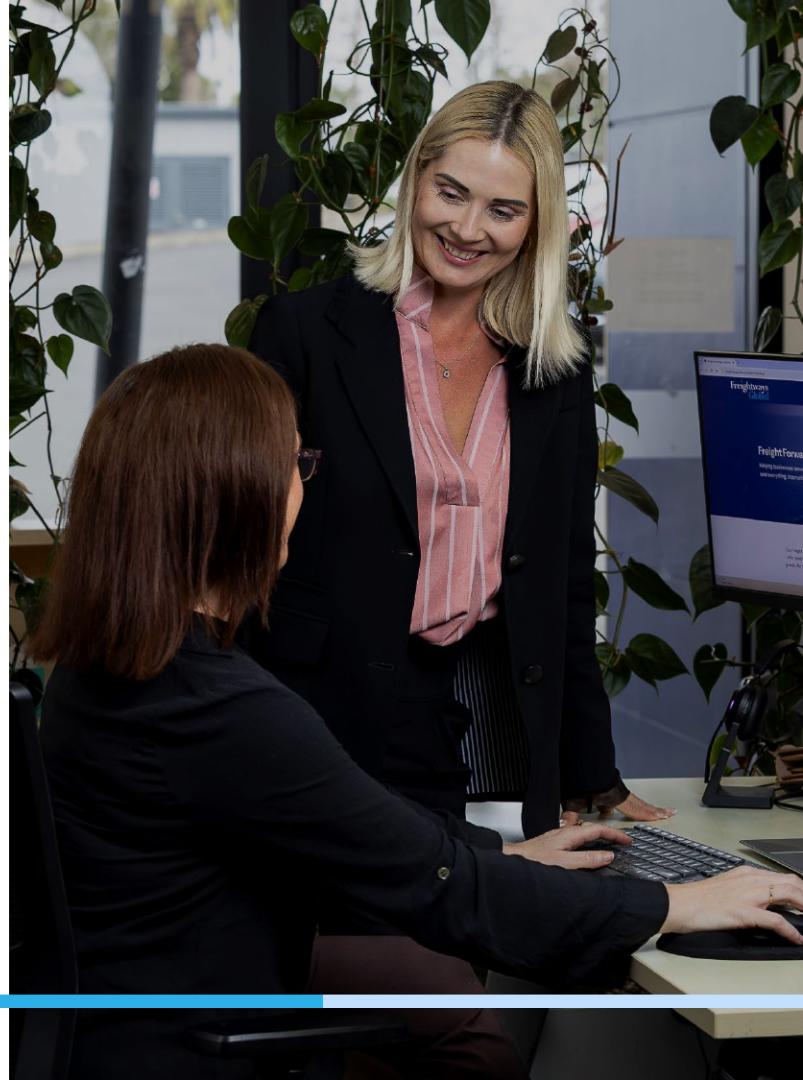

Volumes expected to increase when fuel prices fall

Disciplined M&A approach, with complementary opportunities being explored within the parameters of our Capital Management Policy

I will now speak briefly to some of the highlights of our 2026 financial year.

Slide 5. FY26 Performance

FY26 has been a strong year, with double digit growth across all P&L lines. Revenue is up 13.5%, helped by the acquisition of VTFE in Australia from February 1st. Excluding VTFE, topline growth would still be 11%. The bottom line has increased even more, with an NPAT close to $94m, a 17% growth. Behind these strong numbers, the context remains complicated.

In New Zealand, we had experienced sustained volume recovery until the War in Iran led to a sharp increase of fuel prices and impact consumers' disposable income. The outcome for us was a sudden stop of that economic recovery and a stagnant activity since then. There was also a preference for economy over premium services with many demand stronger for our relatively cheaper road express services rather than our more expensive overnight airfreight mode.

In Australia, volumes were not impacted to the same extent, as government help meant that fuel prices did not reach the same levels, however, more recently the economic environment has been showing signs of strain.

Slide 6. Financial Highlights

This is a numerical summary of what I covered in the previous slide. Double digit growth of both top and bottom lines, dividend up by 12.5% from last year… overall an excellent results given the ever complicated environment.

Slides 7. Australia Growing

This slide illustrates the steady growth of our Australian operations within the Group. Australia was 36% of the revenue and 34% of the EBITA in FY25 and is now 39% and 38% of our group results in FY26. Our ambitious growth strategy in Australia means that the share of the group operations across the Tasman should continue to increase over the next five years.

Slide 8. Leverage

The Board approved a Capital Management Policy that aims at maintaining our credit profile at a level comparable to an investment grade rating. One of the metrics we track is the level of debt to the EBITDA generated by the business. Debt includes lease liabilities but is net of cash. Our net debt to EBITDA ratio was 2.4x at the close of FY26, after the acquisition of VTFE.

Freightways aims to maintain this ratio between 3 and 4x. This gives us significant headroom to support potential acquisitions

Slide 9. Dividend

On the back of a strong result and a solid balance sheet, the Board decided to increase the Full Year dividend to 45 cents, a 12.5% increase from last year. We are conscious that the dividend yield is a significant part of the value proposition of FRW to many of our shareholders. The Board sets the dividend at a level that both reflects the performance of the year, but also that we believe is sustainable over time. You can therefore see the steady increase of our dividend over time, with only 2 exceptions: the GFC and the first year of Covid.

Slide 10. Conclusion

Freightways has continued to deliver through the cycle despite an extended challenging economic period.

We have continued to invest in the business to position it for future growth with recent network investment in Christchurch and Palmerston North and the acquisition of VTFE in Australia.

Our strategy to provide the highest levels of service in our respective niches to enable our business to win share and recover costs is key to our success

In closing, I have several thank yous.

I would like to thank our team of over 6,000 employees and contractors who operate with an unwavering focus on "Moving you to a Better Place".

I would also like to thank my fellow Directors, and our Chief Executive Mark Troughear, his Management Team, who have continued to lead our strategy and execution across NZ and Australia.

I would also like to acknowledge and thank our previous Chair Mark Cairns who finished at the end of July, after 5 ½ years of service, for his valuable contribution to the company.

But particularly, I would like to thank you, our shareholders for your belief and support of our Company.

I will now hand over to our Chief Executive, Mark Troughear.

Nga mihi nui.

Slide 14. Q1 FY27 Trading Update Cover

Slide 15. Q1 FY27

- Fuel prices fluctuated but generally remained elevated through Q1
- Higher fuel prices increase both revenue and costs through fuel adjustment factors, while dampening consumer demand, particularly in discretionary retail and hospitality
- The Australian economy has also slowed, with higher interest rates and lower economic growth
- Despite these headwinds, the business recorded a resilient Q1 trading result

Slide 16. Consolidated Trading Performance – Q1 FY27, unaudited and includes lease accounting

- Revenue increased 17.6% to $408.3m, EBITA increased 12.9% to $50.0m, and NPAT increased 12.0% to $26.2m
- Revenue growth was driven by higher fuel recovery in Express Package & Business Mail and the addition of VTFE
- We continued to win market share and, in most cases, recover cost increases through pricing
- Information Management performed strongly across its lines of business
- Lower demand for premium services, particularly overnight airfreight and temperature controlled delivery, reduced margins at NZ Couriers and Big Chill. Higher fuel recovery also lowered the reported margin percentage

Slide 17. Express Package & Business Mail – Q1 FY27, unaudited and excludes lease accounting

- Revenue increased 20.1% to $346.0m, with VTFE and higher fuel recovery key contributors
- Post Haste and DX Mail performed strongly, reflecting their leading positions and higher demand for their services
- Effective pricing helped recover operating cost increases
- EBITA increased 9.9% to $42.1m. The EBITA margin decreased from 13.3% to 12.2%, reflecting pressure on premium services and fuel levies that recover costs without adding margin

Slide 18. Q1 FY27 NZ Express Package Network Volume

- Item growth was 2.9%, with net market share gains contributing 2.6 percentage points and same-customer volumes contributing 0.3 percentage points
- Revenue increased 8.3%
- eCommerce items increased 24% and manufacturing increased 1.2%, while retail declined 1% and health declined 3%
- eCommerce wins continued to bolster our market share gains

Slide 19. Q1 FY27 Allied Express Package Volume

- Allied's Q1 revenue increased approximately 8%, supported by pricing, fuel recovery and a larger item profile
- Volumes were broadly flat, down 0.1%, with new business offsetting lower activity from existing customers
- A further A$11.2m of annualised new customer business was secured during the quarter
- A number of eCommerce customers down traded 8% due to less online sales
- A large customer has just re contracted their work through Allied with additional volumes expected as a result

Slide 20. Information Management – Q1 FY27, unaudited and excludes lease accounting

- Revenue increased 5.6% to $63.9m and EBITA increased 17.5% to $9.4m
- Shred-X ITAD and product destruction revenues increased 40% and 28% respectively on the prior corresponding period
- Well executed pricing and the Shred-X reset supported improved profitability, with consistent performance across most lines of business
- The EBITA margin improved from 13.2% to 14.7%, an increase of 150 basis points

Slide 21. FY27 Outlook

- Our businesses have remained resilient through three years of soft NZ economic activity. Same-customer activity had been recovering before fuel prices rose, but some customer segments have since struggled
- We expect same-customer volumes in both markets to remain subdued, with progressive improvement when fuel prices fall sustainably. The improvement could be more pronounced in NZ
- The pace of recovery in Australia may depend on broader economic conditions
- Additional capacity in Christchurch and Palmerston North, and investment in Evolve, our new billing and rating systems, will support long term growth in NZ Express Package
- Margin improvement remains a focus across all businesses, particularly Information Management in Australia
- We will continue to grow our Australian Express Package presence in both B2B and B2C, with a disciplined focus on complementary acquisitions within our Capital Management Policy
