ASX Announcement
HighCom Armor to Supply Rifle-Rated Combat Helmets to Pakistan Army

Key highlights:

- Successful initial delivery of helmets marks the first phase of a military procurement program valued at US$1.6 million (approximately AUD$2.39 million).
- Expands HighCom Armor's international customer base.

HighCom Limited (ASX: HCL) (HighCom or the Company) is pleased to advise that its wholly owned subsidiary, HighCom Armor Solutions, Inc., has made the initial delivery of rifle-rated combat helmets to the Pakistan Army as the first phase of a military procurement program valued at US$1.6 million (approximately AUD$2.39 million).

Note: The AUD value of the program has been calculated using a $0.67 exchange rate from US dollars.

The remaining helmets are expected to be delivered during FY27, subject to final in-field acceptance.

Advanced Rifle-Rated Head Protection

The helmets are Rifle Enhanced Combat Helmets, rated for Level III rifle and special-threat protection.

Each helmet is supplied fully fitted out, providing mission-ready capability for military personnel.

The helmets are being delivered to the Pakistan Army's Defence Procurement Agency.

Mr Ryan Edwards, President of HighCom Armor USA, said, "We're proud to work with the Pakistan Army's Defence Procurement Agency to help protect their soldiers. Getting the first batch of helmets into service quickly reflects the trust these customers place in our products and our ability to deliver."

Continued Military Procurement and Delivery

Mr Chad Wright, Senior Vice President of HighCom Armor Solutions, said, "These helmets pair a rifle-rated protection platform with a complete mission-ready configuration. We are focused on delivering the full program on schedule in FY27."

The program supports HighCom Armor's continued supply of advanced ballistic head and body protection to military, law enforcement and government customers worldwide.

This ASX announcement has been authorised for release by the Board of Directors.
