Audeara Expands US Capital Markets Access with OTCID Quotation

Highlights

- Ordinary shares expected to commence quotation on OTCID under the symbol AUDRF on Friday, 20 November (U.S. time).
- Builds on initial US quotation process which began in September 2026, supported by leading advisors, Viriathus Capital.
- The quotation provides US investors with an additional way to trade Audeara shares, while helping the Company reach a broader investor audience and creating opportunities for increased market awareness and participation.
- Follows record FY26 revenue of ~A$4.45m, including ~A$1.56m from North America.
- ASX remains Audeara's primary listing and home market under AUA and does not involve issue of any new securities.
- Additional promotional and market engagement opportunities with US investors planned for the coming months.

Audeara Limited (ASX: AUA | OTCID: AUDRF) ("Audeara" or "the Company") is pleased to advise that its ordinary shares are expected to commence quotation on the OTCID market in the United States on Friday, 20 November under the symbol AUDRF. The quotation follows the commencement of the Quotation process in September (refer ASX announcement: 14 September 2026) and was supported by Viriathus Capital, which assisted with the application, OTC Markets engagement and relevant market-maker liaison.

The successful quotation represents an important step in Audeara's broader capital markets strategy, providing US investors with an additional avenue to trade the Company's securities and supporting increased visibility and engagement across the world's largest capital market.

Importantly, North America is already an established commercial market for Audeara, contributing ~A$1.56 million of the Company's record FY26 revenue of approximately A$4.45 million.

With a growing international footprint and expanding commercial opportunities across its personalised listening products and audio technology licensing programs, Audeara believes the OTCID quotation provides an additional platform to introduce its business and growth strategy to a broader US investor audience.

The Company intends to undertake targeted investor engagement and promotional activities in the coming months, working alongside its US advisors to build awareness of Audeara's commercial progress and longer-term growth opportunities.

The ASX will remain Audeara's primary listing under the ticker AUA. The OTCID quotation does not involve the issue of new securities or an associated capital raising.

Audeara Managing Director and CEO, Dr James Fielding, said

> "North America is already an important market for Audeara. This provides an additional way for US investors to access the Company, while the ASX remains our home market.
> "Our focus remains on execution: delivering personalised listening products and progressing audio-technology licensing programs from development into commercial production."

This announcement has been authorised by the Board of Audeara Limited.
